Dominican Research Monographs, a publication of the CUNY Dominican Studies Institute, appearing roughly every three months, seeks to disseminate knowledge on the Dominican experience in the United States, the Dominican Republic, and elsewhere. Generally, the texts published in the series will have been generated by research projects sponsored by the CUNY Dominican Studies Institute.

Publications Coordinator
Jennifer Radtke

Credits: This publication has been made possible in part by the support of the Chancellor’s Office and Organized Research, the City University of New York.

The CUNY Dominican Studies Institute at City College is an organized research unit of the City University of New York approved by the Board of Trustees of the University on February 22, 1994. The Institute’s primary mission is the production and dissemination of knowledge on the Dominican experience. City College, Hostos Community College, and the central administration of CUNY, with the support of the Dominican community in New York, have led the effort that created the CUNY Dominican Studies Institute.

Foreword

This Directory of Dominicanists, compiled by the Wellesley-based Dominican poet and educator Norberto P. James, constitutes the CUNY Dominican Studies Institute's first step in a long-term effort to identify a critical mass of U.S.-based scholars working on Dominican topics. The Directory intends to serve as a vehicle for Dominicanists to connect and to give the scholarly community a clearer sense of the growing cadre of academics dedicated to the study of the Dominican experience. Hopefully, the number of names will grow significantly with each subsequent edition.

The compiler gathered the data herein contained by writing to colleagues and asking them to return a questionnaire filled with the pertinent information. Not all who received the compiler's communication actually returned the information requested. Nor did the compiler at the time have a way of knowing everyone working on Dominican subjects. We are hoping, however, that this publication will be received as an important step in the direction of easing the future communication among Dominicanists. We have appended a questionnaire at the end of this monograph with the hope that Dominicanists not included in the present monograph will fill out that form and return it to the Dominican Institute at once so they can be included in the next edition of the Directory.

We are confident that this Directory and its subsequent editions will enhance the dissemination of knowledge about things Dominican throughout the country and abroad.
