ECON-1101 - (Page 1 of 12)
COURSE OUTLINE FOR ECON 1101 – MACROECONOMICS

Using the frontier to illustrate economic growth, attainment of new resources, technological change, and more efficient production.
Comparative advantage and the gains from trade
The circular flow of income, product and services in the economy

Review: expressing relationships between economic variables using graphs; Concepts: slope; linear and non-linear relationships; numerical graphs
In-class review/discussion: pg. 42; #2 (a – e)
Assignment #1 due this week - Tues. Feb. 7
Reading assignment for week #3: Ch. 3 – Supply and Demand

Week 3:
Unit 3, Ch 3: Supply and Demand
3 hrs
Product and Resource Markets – Role of households (consumers) and firms
What is a market?
Consumer demand and the “Law of Demand”
Law of Demand: the inverse relationship between price and quantity demanded
Change in quantity demanded vs. shift in demand: the concept of “ceteris paribus”
Causes of a shift in demand: changes in income, expectations, number of consumers, tastes and preferences; Normal and inferior goods
Law of Supply: The positive relationship between price and quantity supplied.
Change in quantity supplied vs. a shift in supply
Causes of a shift in Supply: changes in cost of resources, prices of related goods, technology, expectations of producers, number of producers
Applications (examples) of Demand and Supply graphs; Market demand, market supply and market equilibrium
Government price controls: price ceilings, price floors (shortages and surpluses)
Review /group discussion #1; page 90, question #6 a; pg. 91, questions #7, 9.

Assignment for Week #4:
1) Read Chapter 6: Macroeconomics: The Big Picture
2) Prepare for QUIZ on Tues. Feb. 21; chapters 1,2,3

Week 4:
Unit 4: Chapter 6: Macroeconomics: The Big Picture
3 hrs
Macroeconomics: Theory and Policy
The Business Cycle in Market Economies; short-term vs. long-term growth trend
Expansion, peak, decline, trough
Emergence of modern-day macroeconomic policy to moderate effects of recessions: Keynesian policy/government spending and taxation to stimulate aggregate demand
Components of aggregate demand and aggregate supply
Shifts in the AD and AS curves: What do they show?
The roots of macroeconomics: John Maynard Keynes and the Great Depression
Classical vs. Keynesian economics; the short-run vs. long run model of macroeconomic equilibrium
The Keynesian short-run model and the classical economists’ long-run model
Keynes’ challenge to Say’s Law: the Demand Driven Economy
Wage and Price inflexibility; The role of Government
Concerns of Inflation (boom times) and deflation (severe economic downturns)
The impact of recession on trade imbalances
Are all recessions the same? Comparisons of the recent “Great Recession” to the Great Depression (1930 – 1939) - Discussion

In-class review assignment/groups: pg. 169, ques. #3
Quiz: chapters 1, 2, 3 on 2/21.
Assignment for Week #5: Read chapter 7: Tracking the Macroeconomy

Week 5:
Unit 5:Ch 7: Tracking the Macroeconomy
3 hrs
Gross Domestic Product: Measuring the economy’s output of goods and services;
Government Sector: federal state and local government in the economy

ECON-1101 - (Page 2 of 12)
COURSE OUTLINE FOR ECON 1101 – MACROECONOMICS

The financial sector; the international sector
The three markets: goods and service, labor market, money market
Nominal and real GDP; The difference between GNP and GDP
Expenditure Measure of GDP: consumption by households, businesses, government and the rest of the world (Net exports)
Income Measure of GDP: Income from labor, rent, interest, proprietors’ income, profit
Value added approach vs. measure of final goods and services produced
What GDP Does Not Include; alternative measures of GDP

In-class group assignment: Pg. 196, #3 (a – h); pg. 197, # 8(a-d)
Reading assignment for Week 6: Ch. 8: Unemployment and Inflation

Week 6:
3 hrs
Weeks 6 & 7: Chapter 8: Unemployment and Inflation (Labor force/Unemployment)

How is the labor force defined? Who is in the labor force?
Measuring employment and unemployment.
Who is not counted in the Government’s official count of the unemployed?
Types of unemployment: cyclical unemployment and the business cycle.
The difference between the ‘household survey’ (the civilian labor force) and the ‘establishment survey’
(number of payroll jobs added by employers).
The labor force participation rate
Unemployment and the changes in the global economy

Discussion/review (*from handout; Pg. 188; sec. 7.1, problems 1 and 2; sec. 7.5, problem 1; sec. 7.6, #3)
Questions and research for completing assignment #2 distributed on Thurs. Mar. 8; Assignment is due on Thurs. March 13.
*Midterm review questions posted on Blackboard

Week 7:
3 hrs
1) Assignment #2 is due; discussion.
2) Discuss midterm review questions
3) Assignment: Prepare for Midterm Exam on Tuesday, March 1 (ch. 1, 2, 3, 6, 7, 8 (unemployment and labor force section only)

Week 8:
3 hrs
Midterm Exam: Chapters 1, 2, 3, 6, 7 & 8 (unemployment section only)

Week 9:
3 hrs
Measuring inflation (second half of ch. 8)/the consumer price index
What does it say about the state of the economy?
Real vs. nominal income and earnings
Real and Nominal rates of interest
Costs and causes of inflation

Discuss consumer price index history – past year; trends (handout)
In-class group assignment: pg. 223, ques. #10 and 11
*Reading assignment for Thur. Mar. 29: Chapter 13 – Fiscal Policy and assigned article posted on Blackboard; complete assigned discussion questions

Reading for next class: Chapter 13 – Fiscal Policy
Read article on debt ceiling debate (copies distributed) and answer questions for Tues, Jan. 17 class.

Week 10
3 hrs
Unit 8; Ch. 13: Fiscal policy
Defining fiscal policy: taxation and spending to achieve macroeconomic goals

COURSE INTENDED LEARNING OUTCOMES/ASSESSMENT METHODS: To develop an understanding of the fundamental concepts of macroeconomics and the workings of the national economy. Specifically, course objectives include the following:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>LEARNING OUTCOMES</th>
<th>ASSESSMENT METHODS</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| 1. Demonstrate an understanding the basic economic decisions that underlie the economic process: What and how to produce goods and services and how they are distributed.
2. Understand the concepts of scarcity, choice and opportunity cost and apply these concepts to the analysis of the workings of a market economy.
3. Demonstrate a firm knowledge of the interrelationships among consumers, government, business and the rest of the world in the U.S. macroeconomy.
4. Identify the process of how the nation’s output of goods and services is measured through the national income and product accounts; clearly comprehend the income and expenditure approaches to measuring national output and national income.
5. Acquire the ability to clearly illustrate the specific roles and functions of monetary and fiscal policy in the economy and explain how these are applied to the process of shaping economic policy and stabilizing the economy, specifically with regard to controlling inflation, promoting full employment and facilitating economic growth.
6. Explain the process of how fiscal policy is enacted and how its functions – taxation and spending – are designed to achieve the goals of equilibrium between Aggregate Demand and Supply; develop a firm understanding of the differences between, and the specific roles of, discretionary fiscal policy and automatic stabilizers in stabilizing employment, income, | 1. Regular in-class discussions of readings; review of material in short exercises at end of chapters, homework assignments and class discussions.
2. Quiz: (25 – 30 questions approx) on first 4 chapters.
3. Four homework assignments consisting of a one and ½-to-two page essay on a selection of topics covered in class; and/or researching sources of economic data such as labor force, employment and unemployment trends. These must be submitted in the week following week’s class.
4. Midterm exam (covering the first half of the class)
   Format: Multiple choice questions and a choice of short essay questions.
5. Final exam. (material and chapters covered from the midterm to the end of the semester)
   Format: Multiple choice questions and a choice of short essay questions. |
growth, and prices during periods of recession and economic expansion.

7. Identify and analyze the role of the Federal Reserve System in setting monetary policy, and comprehend the objectives of the instruments used by the Federal Reserve to regulate the nation’s money supply (setting short term interest rates, conducting Open Market Operations and establishing bank reserves); develop the ability to distinguish the functions of these tools in controlling inflation, regulating the circulation of money in the economy, and promoting economic and income growth.

8. Develop an understanding of the impact of globalization on the U.S. economy particularly since the early 1970’s; examine the relationship between the changing structure of the U.S. macroeconomy and changes in U.S. and international trade policy; the impact on trade agreements of the decline of the U.S. manufacturing based economy to a service based economy.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY POLICY STATEMENT

Students and all others who work with information, ideas, texts, images, music, inventions, and other intellectual property owe their audience and sources accuracy and honesty in using, crediting, and citing sources. As a community of intellectual and professional workers, the College recognizes its responsibility for providing instruction in information literacy and academic integrity, offering models of good practice, and responding vigilantly and appropriately to infractions of academic integrity. Accordingly, academic dishonesty is prohibited in The City University of New York and at New York City College of Technology and is punishable by penalties, including failing grades, suspension, and expulsion. The complete text of the College policy on Academic Integrity may be found in the catalog.

Waivers for 4-credit Math and Science Courses

All Common Core courses must be 3 credits and 3 hours.

Waivers for 4-credit courses will only be accepted in the required areas of Mathematical and Quantitative Reasoning and Life and Physical Sciences. Such waivers will only be approved after a sufficient number of 3-credit/3-hour math and science courses are approved for these areas.

If you would like to request a waiver please check here:
- Waiver requested

If waiver requested:
- Please provide a brief explanation for why the course will be 4 credits.

If waiver requested:
- Please indicate whether this course will satisfy a major requirement, and if so, which major requirement(s) the course will fulfill.

Indicate the status of this course being nominated:
- [ ] current course
- [ ] revision of current course
- [ ] a new course being proposed

CUNY COMMON CORE Location

Please check below the area of the Common Core for which the course is being submitted. (Select only one.)

Required
- English Composition
- Mathematical and Quantitative Reasoning
- Life and Physical Sciences

Flexible
- World Cultures and Global Issues
- US Experience in its Diversity
- Individual and Society
- Scientific World
- Creative Expression

Learning Outcomes

In the left column explain the assignments and course attributes that will address the learning outcomes in the right column.

I. Required Core (12 credits)

A. English Composition: Six credits

A course in this area must meet all the learning outcomes in the right column. A student will:

- Read and listen critically and analytically, including identifying an argument's major assumptions and assertions and evaluating its supporting evidence.
B. Mathematical and Quantitative Reasoning: Three credits

A course in this area must meet all the learning outcomes in the right column. A student will:

- Interpret and draw appropriate inferences from quantitative representations, such as formulas, graphs, or tables.
- Use algebraic, numerical, graphical, or statistical methods to draw accurate conclusions and solve mathematical problems.
- Represent quantitative problems expressed in natural language in a suitable mathematical format.
- Effectively communicate quantitative analysis or solutions to mathematical problems in written or oral form.
- Evaluate solutions to problems for reasonableness using a variety of means, including informed estimation.
- Apply mathematical methods to problems in other fields of study.

C. Life and Physical Sciences: Three credits

A course in this area must meet all the learning outcomes in the right column. A student will:

- Identify and apply the fundamental concepts and methods of a life or physical science.
- Apply the scientific method to explore natural phenomena, including hypothesis development, observation, experimentation, measurement, data analysis, and data presentation.
- Use the tools of a scientific discipline to carry out collaborative laboratory investigations.
- Gather, analyze, and interpret data and present it in an effective written laboratory or fieldwork report.
- Identify and apply research ethics and unbiased assessment in gathering and reporting scientific data.

II. Flexible Core (18 credits)

Six three-credit liberal arts and sciences courses, with at least one course from each of the following five areas and no more than two courses in any discipline or interdisciplinary field.

A. World Cultures and Global Issues

A Flexible Core course must meet the three learning outcomes in the right column.

In addition to the text, the course requires readings that express a range of viewpoints and theories; it also requires the ability to gather and interpret basic statistics on economic measures.

- Gather, interpret, and assess information from a variety of sources and points of view.
- Evaluate evidence and arguments critically or analytically.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>clearly reasoned  independent analysis.</th>
<th>• Produce well-reasoned written or oral arguments using evidence to support conclusions.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Students produce two to three short (1 &amp; ½ to 2 – page) papers that require the use of evidence from the readings to support their conclusions. These assignments are discussed in class, encouraging students to discuss their arguments, reasoning and conclusions.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A course in this area (II.A) must meet at least three of the additional learning outcomes in the right column. A student will:</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The course focuses on developing an understanding of the interrelationships among consumers, government, business and the rest of the world in the U.S. macroeconomy; applying the basic concepts that underlie economic analysis to an understanding of the U.S. economy and its changing relationship to world economies.</td>
<td>• Identify and apply the fundamental concepts and methods of a discipline or interdisciplinary field exploring world cultures or global issues, including, but not limited to, anthropology, communications, cultural studies, economics, ethnic studies, foreign languages (building upon previous language acquisition), geography, history, political science, sociology, and world literature.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• Analyze culture, globalization, or global cultural diversity, and describe an event or process from more than one point of view.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Course readings and written assignments will examine the impact of globalization on the U.S. economy particularly since the early 1970’s; the relationship between the changing structure of the U.S. macroeconomy and economic development of emerging market economies such as China, Brazil and India; readings and assignments also look at the changes in the nature of trade agreements and trade relations with emerging economies with the transition of the U.S. economy from a manufacturing based to a service based economy.</td>
<td>• Analyze the historical development of one or more non-U.S. societies.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The course examines the economic and social changes that led to the Great Depression; it covers the fundamentals of Keynesian economic theory that introduced major changes in U.S. fiscal policy, and an examination of the role of the U.S. labor movement in advancing significant changes in both labor law and social/economic policy.</td>
<td>• Analyze the significance of one or more major movements that have shaped the world’s societies.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• Analyze and discuss the role that race, ethnicity, class, gender, language, sexual orientation, belief, or other forms of social differentiation play in world cultures or societies.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• Speak, read, and write a language other than English, and use that language to respond to cultures other than one’s own.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

B. U.S. Experience in its Diversity

A Flexible Core course must meet the three learning outcomes in the right column.

<table>
