ECPSE 710	Curriculum and Instruction for Childhood Special Education (3 credits - Hybrid)
COURSE DESCRIPTION	The overall objective of this course is to provide program candidates with strategies, tools, and techniques to design and implement meaningful educational experiences and opportunities for children with or at-risk for learning disabilities. The focus is on assuring and promoting access and participation in the general education curriculum and inclusive educational settings. Candidates within this course will be provided with experiences related to curriculum design, assessment, and instruction, as well as multiple opportunities to develop, modify, and evaluate curriculum; design informal assessments; and plan and teach direct instruction lessons. Classes will include in-person and web-based lectures, discussion, applications, cooperative group work, and reflective evaluation of classroom observations and instruction.

CUNY POLICY ON ACADEMIC INTEGRITY	The policy on Academic integrity, as adopted by the Board is available to all candidates. Academic Dishonesty is prohibited in the City University of New York and is punishable by penalties, including failing grades, suspension, and expulsion. This policy and others related to candidates' issues are available to you at: http://qcpages.qc.cuny.edu/provost/Policies/index.html .
USE OF CANDIDATE WORK	All teacher education programs in New York State undergo periodic reviews by accreditation agencies and the state education department. For these purposes, samples of candidates' work are made available to the professionals conducting the review. Candidate anonymity is assured under these circumstances. If you do not wish to have your work made available for these purposes, please let the professor know before the start of the second class.
REASONABLE ACCOMMODATIONS FOR CANDIDATES WITH DISABILITIES	A candidate with disabilities needing academic accommodation should discuss the types of accommodation needed with Professor during the first week of class. For more information about services available to Queens College students with disabilities, contact: Special Services Office; 171 Kiely Hall; 718-997-5870 (8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.).
