Introductory Psychology Hidden Figures Poster – Online Group Presentation

Students will work in groups to prepare poster presentations about underrecognized contributors or “hidden figures” in the field of psychology.

Here are the steps for completing the assignment:

- A. Select an individual who has made a significant contribution to Psychology through their research, scholarship, or advocacy but is generally omitted from traditional Psychology course textbooks. You can choose one of the names on the list below, or you can do some research and identify someone else.
- B. Fill in the template with your partners to create a poster that tells a story about this individual and their contribution to the field of Psychology. Please use the template provided. You may change the colors and font but do not add or delete sections.
- C. You must include at least 3 scholarly references (journal articles, book chapters, etc.) in your presentation. All the material on the poster must be paraphrased. Do not copy paste from the sources.
- D. Each group must submit this assignment in two ways!
 - a. First turn in the completed poster as a PowerPoint file or pdf file.
 - b. Then you must also record a video presentation (5 to 7 mins long) in which you display the poster and talk about the individual and explain their work. Each member of the group must participate in the video presentation.

List of hidden figures you may choose from:

Albert Sidney Beckham	Eleanor Maccoby
Martha Bernal	Ignacio Martín-Baró
Herman George Canady	Inez Beverly Prosser
Kenneth Bancroft Clarke	Muzafer Sherif
Mamie Phipps Clark	Francis Cecil Sumner
Jennifer Eberhardt	Reiko True
Leta Stetter Hollingsworth	Joseph L. White
Kobi Kambon (aka Joseph Baldwin)	Robert Lee Williams
