College presidents worry about higher ed’s future

Aldemaro Romero Jr.
CUNY Bernard M Baruch College

Recommended Citation
The Madison County Health Department is observing National Public Health Week starting Monday, February 27.

The Health Department is partnering with the Madison County Health and Human Services Association on the ongoing process of public health education and outreach. Monday is the start of a week-long event which is the main focus of the 2017 event. The week is an initiative of the American Public Health Association and is celebrated during the first full week of March every year. The concept is to bring awareness to a particular public health issue and to encourage people to make positive changes for themselves and our communities.

The Minnesota Department of Health is highlighting the risk factors for communicable diseases (highlighted with the idea of taxation and regulation) with the idea of raising public awareness to potential consequences and positive management of communicable diseases. The Health Department is holding a community event to share information about communicable diseases and the importance of vaccination. The event will be held on Public Health Thursday: Behavioral Health.

The Public will be able to find information on communicable diseases at the Madison County Health Department Facebook page, Facebook: facebook.com/MadisonCoHealth, and Madison County, Iowa.”

Although all of the topics for the week are important, it is of great importance to public health professionals to be aware of any communicable diseases that may be circulating in the community. The Health Department encourages people to contact the Madison County Health Department at 800-679-0987 if they suspect they may have been exposed to a communicable disease.

The Simon Poll was conducted with 1,000 registered voters in Illinois. The margin of error is plus or minus 3.1 percent.}

The film is rated R and is directed by Joel Coen and Ethan Coen; it stars Denzel Washington, Forest Whitaker, and Angelica Ross.

Continued from Page 1

The Health Department will observe a Community Health Fair to provide health screenings and information on health-related topics.

For more information about National Public Health Week visit their website on Illinois.gov/IDPH.

For the Intelligence

Eighth women were honored at SIUE’s third annual Phenomenal Women’s Luncheon on Wednesday, March 22.

SIUE recognizes successful women

Seventh in a series of monthly luncheons, the film “The Isom Wall smiling director of the SIUE Drug-Free Communities Coalition (highlighting the roll call process) was scheduled to be shown at 7 p.m., Tuesday, April 25

The film is an opportunity to celebrate the women who are making a difference in our community and to provide young women with an opportunity to learn from the achievements of women who have achieved success in a variety of areas.

The Health Department is holding a community event to share information about communicable diseases and the importance of vaccination. The event will be held on Public Health Thursday: Behavioral Health.

The Health Department is partnering with the Madison County Health and Human Services Association on the ongoing process of public health education and outreach. Monday is the start of a week-long event which is the main focus of the 2017 event. The week is an initiative of the American Public Health Association and is celebrated during the first full week of March every year. The concept is to bring awareness to a particular public health issue and to encourage people to make positive changes for themselves and our communities.

The Minnesota Department of Health is highlighting the risk factors for communicable diseases (highlighted with the idea of taxation and regulation) with the idea of raising public awareness to potential consequences and positive management of communicable diseases. The Health Department encourages people to contact the Madison County Health Department at 800-679-0987 if they suspect they may have been exposed to a communicable disease.

The film is rated R and is directed by Joel Coen and Ethan Coen; it stars Denzel Washington, Forest Whitaker, and Angelica Ross.

Continued from Page 1

The film is an opportunity to celebrate the women who are making a difference in our community and to provide young women with an opportunity to learn from the achievements of women who have achieved success in a variety of areas.

The Health Department is holding a community event to share information about communicable diseases and the importance of vaccination. The event will be held on Public Health Thursday: Behavioral Health.

The Health Department is partnering with the Madison County Health and Human Services Association on the ongoing process of public health education and outreach. Monday is the start of a week-long event which is the main focus of the 2017 event. The week is an initiative of the American Public Health Association and is celebrated during the first full week of March every year. The concept is to bring awareness to a particular public health issue and to encourage people to make positive changes for themselves and our communities.

The Minnesota Department of Health is highlighting the risk factors for communicable diseases (highlighted with the idea of taxation and regulation) with the idea of raising public awareness to potential consequences and positive management of communicable diseases. The Health Department encourages people to contact the Madison County Health Department at 800-679-0987 if they suspect they may have been exposed to a communicable disease.