Preface

LaGuardia Faculty Publications is produced every five years to showcase the published work of the faculty of LaGuardia Community College. This fourth edition covers the period from 1968 to 2005 and features forthcoming documents for the year 2005.

The objective of this publication is to recognize and highlight the research and other scholarly endeavors of LaGuardia's faculty. The publication includes a rich source of print and non-print materials such as books, journal and newspaper articles, conference proceedings, art exhibitions, audiovisual materials and electronic formats. These materials reflect the faculty's strong commitment to scholarship and their diverse interests and expertise. This publication is a valuable resource for not only the LaGuardia community, but also for the global academic community as well. Past and future copies may be reviewed online at the college or library's website.

The main entries are arranged alphabetically by the author's last name. The citations have been formatted according to the sixth edition of the MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers using single spacing. A subject index has also been included to assist readers in locating materials.

I gratefully acknowledge the assistance of the ninety-three faculty members and administrators who contributed data for this publication. Special thanks to Academic Affairs, the Library Media Resources Center and the Educational Development Initiative Team (EDIT) for providing funds for this publication.

Introduction

The faculty of a college not only sets the academic standard for the institution but also determines its character. A dynamic institution will by definition have a dynamic faculty, one which is actively engaged in the business of teaching and scholarship and which actively contributes to the public discussion about the nature of both. LaGuardia Faculty Publications is both a reflection of and a testament to the energy, enthusiasm, and scholarly achievements of our faculty.

In this volume you will be introduced to the wide range of interests pursued by the faculty of LaGuardia Community College and the varied expressions of these interests. In books, journal articles, web publications, and electronic media, the faculty of the College demonstrate their commitment not only to expanding and redefining the limits and nature of traditional academic research and scholarship, but also to exploring exciting new venues for their expression.

We hope you will find LaGuardia Faculty Publications a useful resource as you pursue your own academic and scholarly interests. We hope additionally that the rich variety of subjects and perspectives included here will inspire and stimulate your imaginations and encourage you to reach out to our faculty for collaboration, consultation, and connection.
