College staff continue to be unsung heroes.

Aldemaro Romero Jr.
CUNY Bernard M Baruch College

How does access to this work benefit you? Let us know!
Follow this and additional works at: https://academicworks.cuny.edu/bb_pubs

Part of the Higher Education Commons

Recommended Citation
Romero, A. 2017. College staff continue to be unsung heroes. The Edwardsville Intelligencer 19 June 2017, p. 3.

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Baruch College at CUNY Academic Works. It has been accepted for inclusion in Publications and Research by an authorized administrator of CUNY Academic Works. For more information, please contact AcademicWorks@cuny.edu.
YMCA ing their own personal stamp from patterns or of advanced. But I’m going to bring it down to Printmaking campers are going to be able to Printmaking Camp, said that the Rainbow students will explore the world of color and unfortunately the salary comes out to among skilled craft workers in the Northeast, who have a median of 11 years in their position. These two areas surveyed 727 institutions, which provided data on 169,258 staff for the 149 position types studied. The colleges and universities they analyze are well represented by type of institution classification (research-focused, teaching-focused, universities, community colleges, etc.), affiliation and region. The survey findings are very comprehensive and included key demographic variables such as age, gender, race/ethnicity, birth year (estimated age), and years in position to position all for the Rainbow Printmaking Camp. The survey was carried out online between November 2016 and February 2017 at http://www.cupajob.com/survey/sha.aspx. The position for an office assistant was included in the survey provided by the study to improve higher education in this country. First of all, we have to realize that the role of the office assistant is not just drawing and it’s not just painting. They are the ones who represent the “face” of the university – departments and other academic and non-academic units to students. They are the first ones to field questions about class schedules, forms that need to be filled, etc. They are also the ones that make sure that facilities are in good order, and that all the equipment for common uses, such as photocopying, are working properly. They have to offer supplies, other offices to coordinate actions, etc. By no means you get the picture universities couldn’t operate without them. Then, think about the work done by others in these visible but equally important roles, who answer the phone, take messages, greet people. The credentials are good order, and that all the equipment for common uses, such as photocopying, are working properly. They have to offer supplies, other offices to coordinate actions, etc. By no means you get the picture universities couldn’t operate without them. YMCA

Continued from Page 1

About half of the summer is left to go so there are still several camps that begin next month and in July or even early August. Two upcoming camps also plan area schools that are still running, registration is Rainbow Printmaking for fourth through eighth grade students and Rocket Sports Summer camp for 4- to 7-year-old children.

New additions to the specialty camps this year are Rainbow Printmaking Camp, open from June 1 to 2 p.m. p.m. to 3 p.m. and July 15 at the YMCA. The YMCA Printmaking Camp students will explore the world of color and patterns with this introduction to printmaking. The students have the opportunity to explore tracing, cutting, stamping, and printing to make their designs. By using a variety of techniques including Gelli printing and relief printing, the results will be colorful works of art.

Kelley Seidel, who is teaching the Rainbow Printmaking Camp, said that the Rainbow Printmaking camps are going to be able to explore printmaking techniques that are “kind of advanced. But it’s brought down to its most accessible level for them,” Seidel emphasized.

“They are able to do a lot of linear drawing and then we’ll show them the more basic techniques of printmaking that I really enjoy. And I think the students will really find it interesting. “She explained that her camps would make

A youngster prepares to hit a ball during one of the YMCA’s summer camps.

A youngester prepares to hit a ball during one of the YMCA’s summer camps.

For the Intelligencer

For the Intelligencer

For the Intelligencer

For the Intelligencer

For the Intelligencer

For the Intelligencer

For the Intelligencer

For the Intelligencer

For the Intelligencer

For the Intelligencer

For the Intelligencer

For the Intelligencer

For the Intelligencer

For the Intelligencer

For the Intelligencer

For the Intelligencer

For the Intelligencer

For the Intelligencer

For the Intelligencer