BROOKLYN COLLEGE SONG

How Lovely In The Light Of Evening

DEDICATED TO
DR. HARRY D. GIDEONSE

WORDS BY
HANNAH ALEXANDER

MUSIC BY
JOSEF ALEXANDER

© Copyright Josef Alexander
BROOKLYN COLLEGE SONG

HOW LOVELY IN THE LIGHT OF EVENING

TO DR. HARRY D. GIDEONSE

MUSIC BY
JOSEF ALEXANDER

WORDS BY
HANNAH ALEXANDER

Moderato

1. How lovely in the light of evening,
   Stand these stately walls,
   Our days are filled with hours of learning,
   Our leave thy noble door.

2. The joyous years, the years of youth,
   Are nurtured here by the towers of brown.
   Friendship, love, and beauty,
   Thy gifts are dear to me.

3. How sad and gray,
   How sad and gray,
   How sad and gray
   Our halls will ever be fair.

4. Our hearts proclaim
   The knowledge, growth, and truth;
   The Many will never be known
   Amongst the broad ways.
Brooklyn College, we have in thee the power To beautify our home.

In gratitude we raise our song, Hail once again to thee! Oh Alma Mater!

All our dreams will ever return to thee.

D.C.