- 4 CUNY Academic Commons JFRR blog: place to share announcements about our publications on the blog
 - a We talked about using the JFRR blog associated with this group (<http://jfr.commons.gc.cuny.edu/>) as a place to announce publications and other projects in our meeting yesterday. It seems that everyone in this group is an "author" on the blog, and therefore everyone should all be able to see the dashboard and create a new post there as you like (just click the category "JFRR Publications" to have your post show up in our publications area on the blog).
