Notes from the Editors

By Derek Stadler

We are very pleased to welcome you to the first issue of the 28th volume of Urban Library Journal. Currently, the new issue features one article. While we had multiple submissions, the strain of the COVID-19 Pandemic seems to be taking a toll on authors and researchers. Some submissions did not get to the publication stage after peer review. “An Interprofessional Public Library-Academic Medical Center Partnership for Community Outreach on Women’s Health” describes a collaboration between a branch of the Queens Public Library in New York City and an academic medical center that advanced a women’s health educational program. The program provided workshops on medical conditions such as diabetes and heart disease. It also focused on concerns of interest to women to improve the health literacy of local community members.

Special thanks to Louise Fluk (Collection Development Librarian at LaGuardia Community College) for their copyediting help.

Enjoy!
