

City University of New York (CUNY)

CUNY Academic Works

Publications and Research

CUNY Graduate Center

2009

Extra, Extra, Read All About It!

Irvin Sam Schonfeld
CUNY Graduate Center

How does access to this work benefit you? Let us know!

More information about this work at: https://academicworks.cuny.edu/gc_pubs/269

Discover additional works at: <https://academicworks.cuny.edu>

This work is made publicly available by the City University of New York (CUNY).
Contact: AcademicWorks@cuny.edu

Extra, Extra, Read all about it!

Irvin Sam Schonfeld

The City College of the City University of New York

At the end of April and the beginning of May, while preparing to publish the sixth issue of the Newsletter, I got in touch with the unit of APA that publishes PsycINFO. I wanted the Newsletter to be covered. Covered, that is, by another APA database that is housed in the office that publishes PsycINFO. APA publishes PsycEXTRA, a database devoted to the so-called "gray literature," or documents such as "newsletters, newspapers, magazines, and technical and annual reports, government reports, consumer brochures, standards and more" (Introducing PsycEXTRA!, 2004). APA launched PsycEXTRA in 2004 for the purpose of creating a database devoted to difficult-to-find documents that are nonetheless of value to researchers and practitioners. Much of the literature is outside the peer-review world. Of course, PsycINFO covers peer-reviewed journals.

PsycEXTRA includes citations and abstracts and, when possible, entire articles. APA partnered with EBSCO in creating PsycEXTRA. The database is available at APA PsycNET through an annual site license and at many university libraries.

PsycEXTRA now covers the Newsletter of the Society for Occupational Health Psychology, including back issues.

Reference

Introducing PsycEXTRA! (2004). PsycINFO News, 24, 2.

