Spring 1978

Back Matter

The Feminist Press

Follow this and additional works at: https://academicworks.cuny.edu/wsq

Part of the Feminist, Gender, and Sexuality Studies Commons

Recommended Citation

https://academicworks.cuny.edu/wsq/265

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Archives and Special Collections at CUNY Academic Works. It has been accepted for inclusion in Women's Studies Quarterly by an authorized administrator of CUNY Academic Works. For more information, please contact AcademicWorks@cuny.edu.
International Journal of Women's Studies

The exciting NEW journal for the publication of serious articles on all aspects of women in society; past, present and future. Volume 1 Number 1 published January 1978. Six issues per year. All submissions acknowledged promptly and decisions rendered within one month or receipt of articles. All postage paid by Eden Press. Individual subscriptions $22.50; Institutional subscriptions $30.00. Write for a FREE sample copy!

Monographs in Women's Studies

The Dilemma of the Talented Heroine
SUSAN SIEFERT
The 19th C woman in fact and in fiction has frequently been the victim of stereotyping. This study explores the limitations of stereotype and the tension between aspiration and social expectations in Pride and Prejudice, Emma, The Mill on the Floss, Middlemarch and Jane Eyre. Contains extensive notes and annotations, a comprehensive index, and a timely and provocative bibliographical essay.

Women & American Trade Unions
JAMES J. KENNEALLY
Largely ignored in traditional accounts, the role of women in labor history has created a long-lasting quandry for the American Trade union movement. Based largely on manuscript sources this study provides an analysis of the strained relations between working women and unions from the Civil War to the present. With its extensive and annotated bibliography, it will serve as a useful text, reference work or general narrative for courses in women's studies, women's history and labor history.

Virgins, Vamps & Flappers
SUMIKO HIGASHI
A provocative and perceptive study of the silent movie heroine, based on the premise that the image of woman in vogue at any period of time reflects moral assumptions and acts as a barometer of social, economic and cultural change.

Daniel Defoe & the Status of Women
SHIRLENE MASON
There has been considerable controversy concerning Daniel Defoe's views on the role of women in society. This study examines Defoe's attitude toward women in the light of their legal and social status, and compares 18th C law and social conditions to the ideas Defoe sets forth in his fiction, in his didactic works, and in his journalism.

Birth in Four Cultures
BRIGITTE JORDAN
This study provides a fascinating cross-cultural comparison of 4 very different birthing systems: American hospital birth, Dutch and Swedish mid-wife handled births, and Maya Indian mid-wife attended home birth in Yucatán, Mexico. The latter is treated in some detail, since no eyewitness reports exist in the literature. The justificational nature of obstetric practices are examined, and implications relevant to change of birthing systems are discussed.

Order From:
EDEN PRESS WOMEN'S PUBLICATIONS
Box 51, St. Albans, Vermont 05478

Editorial Offices:
1538 Sherbrooke St. W. #201, Montreal, Quebec, Canada H3G 1L5.
Can you imagine any student today role playing Betsy Ross? Yet traditional history books give the impression that the ability to use a needle and thread can provide the basis for lasting fame. On the other hand, there have been women who have played, and who are continuing to play, genuinely important roles in this nation's historical and cultural development. But because most history books have been written by men, we don't know much about the women in our country's history.

SRA's new High School Division offers a text that finally sets the record straight. A text in which women are neither stereotypes nor afterthoughts. Written by Beth Millstein and Jeanne Bodin, We, the American Women, a Documentary History, is a timely addition to your Social Studies program.

Phone SRA's new High School Division 800/621-0664 for additional information, or contact:

William R. Devine
86-45 Avon Street
Jamaica Estates, N.Y. 11432
(212) 658-5150

SRA®
SCIENCE RESEARCH ASSOCIATES, INC.
155 North Wacker Drive
Chicago, Illinois 60606
A Subsidiary of IBM
NEW FROM THE
FEMINIST PRESS!

by Michael Wilson
with a Commentary
by Deborah Silverton Rosenfelt

$4.95 paper

This 1954 film that was denied distribution during the McCarthy era integrates the struggles of workers, of an ethnic minority, and of women for dignity and equality. Made in New Mexico by black-listed Hollywood people and members of a progressive union, the film tells the story of an actual strike in a zinc mine. The film’s narrator and protagonist is a Mexican-American woman who grows in consciousness and effectiveness through her participation in the community struggle. The book includes Michael Wilson’s screenplay and an original commentary by Deborah Silverton Rosenfelt. Based partly on recent interviews, Rosenfelt’s work includes a discussion of the change in the status of the women who took part in the strike, as well as an analysis of the background, history, and significance of both the strike and the film. Richly illustrated with stills from the film.