I Love Myself
When I Am Laughing . . .

. . . And Then Again When I Am Looking Mean and Impressive

A Zora Neale Hurston Reader

Edited by Alice Walker
Introduction by Mary Helen Washington
$14.95 cloth; $6.95 paper; 320 pages
ISBN 0-912670-56-8 (cloth)

Zora Neale Hurston was the intellectual and spiritual foremother of a whole generation of Black women writers. This volume—the first anthology of Hurston's work ever published—contains a wide range of fiction, journalism, folklore, and autobiography written between 1926 and 1950. Commentary by Mary Helen Washington and Alice Walker provides fascinating insights into Hurston, as well as into America's cultural and social history.

"Zora Neale Hurston was a Black woman who delighted in the complexity and spirit of Black people and rendered their lives superbly . . . one of the greatest writers of our time."—Toni Morrison, author of Song of Solomon.

"Brilliant and necessary . . . the need of both the general public and scholars of Black literature for this particular work is vital. It will prove an inspiring part of our literary heritage."—June Jordan, author, Associate Professor of English, State University of New York at Stony Brook
