Sexual Harassment of Working Women

A Case of Sex Discrimination

Catharine A. MacKinnon

Foreword by Thomas I. Emerson

"A brilliant, searching, clear-eyed treatment of an experience so daily and universal in women's lives that it is interwoven with the very fabric of social life. . . . This is a splendid contribution to feminist theory, legal criticism, ethics, labor history and economics."—Adrienne Rich

"MacKinnon's book will be a tool of knowledge and action and an inspiration to women now crippled by the degrading reality of sexual harassment on the job."—Andrea Dworkin

Women and Men on the Overland Trail

John Mack Faragher

A lively and penetrating analysis of what the overland journey was really like for midwestern farm families in the mid-1800s. Through the subtle use of contemporary diaries, memoirs, and even folk songs, Faragher dispels the common stereotypes of male and female roles and reveals in a new and absorbing fashion the dynamics of pioneer family relations.

The Bonds of Womanhood

"Woman's Sphere" in New England, 1780-1835

Nancy F. Cott

"An important contribution to social history and to women's history. . . . Cott presents a convincing discussion of the interaction between cultural expectations and female response at the beginning of the nineteenth century."—Laurie Crumpacker,

Early American Literature

"Informative and stimulating. No one interested in women's history, family history, or any other variant of the new social history will be able to ignore it."

—Edward Shorter, William and Mary Quarterly
