Faculty Urges College To Install PhD Plan

A nine-member faculty committee has recommended establishment of a full program of research and graduate studies in the college leading to a doctoral degree.

The primary purpose of a graduate studies and research program would be to improve the quality of education at the college, the report continued. Without facilities for research, without the opportunities to associate with distinguished faculty specialists and without challenging courses for new teachers to teach, it might be increasingly difficult to attract the best young instructors in the highly competitive market for college teachers.

The committee recommended establishing a program of high quality, containing these points: The extension of master's degree work to most of the departments of the college; increased scholarly research activity by faculty members; adequate laboratory and office space determined by graduate and research standards; and a stimulation of a general environment congenial to independent and creative faculty endeavor.

The extension of master's degree work to most of the departments of the college; increased scholarly research activity by faculty members; adequate laboratory and office space determined by graduate and research standards; and a stimulation of a general environment congenial to independent and creative faculty endeavor.

Recent surveys at the College indicated that students do not take advantage of new graduate programs if they were available.

Pointing out that advanced courses often required a great deal of time and money, the report suggested that a publicly supported, low-cost program would provide an opportunity for students of low income or with other personal obligations to complete their education.

Council Sends Two Letters To Administration, Ticker

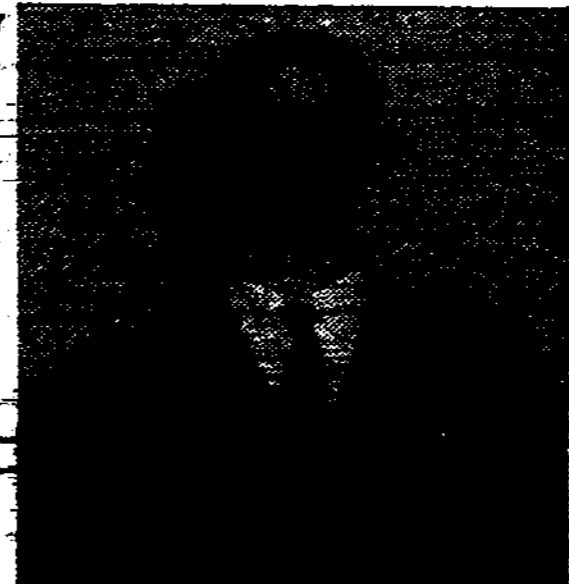

Student Council passed two motions Thursday to send letters to Dean Emanuel Saxe and THE TICKER concerning the meeting room of Council and the purpose and present procedure for mailing school identification cards.

The first motion, presented by SC President Howard Misthal, which requested that Council return to its former meeting room of past semesters, The Faculty Council Lounge on the ninth floor, was unanimously approved by Council.

The present room used by the group, 1221, has been found to be inadequate in meeting the needs of Council, reported many of its members.

Arthur Schreiber

Howard Misthal

The letter states, "The Faculty Council Lounge has not been used on any Friday this term. Council could see itself inconvenienced for academic endeavors, but not when the room in question lies unused. Regardless of what future plans may be made for the Faculty Council Lounge, as long as it is not used, Council should have the right to meet there."

Arthur Schreiber '61, proposed the second letter, related to the ID cards, which was passed by Council 22-1-0. The motion to send the letter stemmed largely from the fact that most Baruchians have not received their cards although the semester is already half over.

The letter concludes, "We believe that the present procedure is ineffective and unnecessary. The identification cards have not fulfilled their original purpose. We would therefore, request an evaluation on your part of the effectiveness of the program."

Student Council to Present Human Relations Seminar

Student Council, through its National Student Association committee, will bring to the Baruch School its first human relations seminar, December 18, in the Student Center.

The program will revolve around discriminatory policies in the north, with discussion groups focusing in detail on problems of housing, employment, college admissions and discriminatory policies of organizations inside and outside of schools and colleges.

The committee plans to have a top government official of New York State as the keynote speaker, in addition to speakers from such recognized human relations agencies in the city as the National Council of Churches and the Congress of Racial Equality.

It is expected that President Buel G. Gallagher and Dean Emanuel Saxe will also address the body.

Limited Facilities

The program is open to the student body, but because of limited physical facilities, it is restricted to 85 participants. Each organization on campus will be permitted two representatives, and extra openings will be thrown open to the student body.

Names of representatives must be submitted to Arthur Schreiber, Chairman of the seminar, by December 2, in the Student Council office, 416 of the Student Center.

Schreiber noted that the program is "intended to provide the student body with a program of vital interest to the community in addition to academic activities."

Israel at Hillel:

Roosevelt Haters' To Be Viewed

By Peter Remler

Fred Israel of the History Department will deliver a talk entitled, "The Roosevelt Haters" at Hillel's lecture at 144 E. 24 Street Thursday at 12:15.

Israel was graduated from City College of New York in 1955, got his master's degree in History from Columbia University in 1956, and received his doctorate from Columbia this past year.

In line with his general philosophy that history is best learned through continued travel and contact with people, Dr. Israel traveled widely through Europe last summer.

Through the contacts he made through the many college students in France, Italy, England, Greece, Poland, and Spain, Dr. Israel discovered the one great feeling all students seemed to possess—an ardent nationalism. His talk will strive to explain opposing sentiments people possessed concerning F.D.R. This talk is the third in Hillel's Fall Lecture Forum. The first was Mr. Dispenzieri's discussion of "Competency and Mental Health," which was followed by Major Mordecai Daina's talk concerning the cooperation among the three faiths in the Armed Services.

In his talk, Mr. Dispenzieri showed that mental health and competency are interrelated, dependent ideas and concluded with suggestions to the college student for attaining at least one phase of mental health, through the mastery of all subjects by the simple rule of application and preparation.

The Major suggested that very few religious conflicts exist in the Army because the men live and work so close together that the knowledge they gain from this contact overrides bigotry.

Major Daina concluded that cooperation without compromise exists in which each faith accommodates one another as much as possible without sacrificing the principles of its own faith.

Council Letters

Student Council, at its meeting Thursday, discussed and passed two letters which were sent to Dean Emanuel Saxe and which also appear in the Letters to the Editor column of THE TICKER.

One letter deals with the use of the Faculty Council Lounge, while the other poses some questions about the use and financing of photo-identification cards.

We have already commented on the use of the Faculty Council Lounge and will only note that those who would have seen Council meeting next door to the ping-pong room would surely have concluded that Council should have been permitted to use the vacant Faculty Council Lounge.

As for the ID cards, we feel that both this letter and a previous letter raise some pertinent questions.

The letter of December 2 noted that "It has been the experience of the members of Student Council that occasions for exhibiting the cards have rarely arisen."

The Dean, in his reply dated December 3, noted "that the two principal uses of these cards should be in connection with the new Student Center building and/or use of the Baruch School building at times when it is not officially open for classes." He continued that when the Center is opened "they (the cards) should prove to be quite valuable in properly restricting the use of this facility to those who are entitled to it."

The Center has been open eight weeks and Council members have again found that many students have not received the cards and that few students have been asked to show them.

The second question raised in both letters concerns the financing of the ID cards. The Dean, in his December reply, did not feel that it was necessary to go into this matter "since the funds used to provide this service do not come from the student activity fees, but have been allotted by the College for the purpose."

We cannot accept this as an adequate reply. If the funds come from the general operating budget of the City College, then we, as sons and daughters of taxpayers, have the right to petition the Board of Estimate and say that we feel the expenditure is unnecessary and unwise. If the funds come from the City College Fund or some other philanthropic source, then we have the responsibility to express our concern to the donors if we feel the money could be put to better use.

Correction

Last week's editorial entitled 'Center Evaluation' noted that "contrary to every city fire and safety ordinance, it (the bookstore) remained open by candlelight."

The fact was, the bookstore used one fluorescent light at the cash register and did not violate any safety or fire laws.

The bookstore, however, did remain open during last Monday's electrical work while all other activity in the building ceased. This, we still feel, emphasizes the privileged position of the bookstore.

Letters to the Editor

(The following letter is written on behalf of Student Council by its president.)

To the Editor of THE TICKER: We must strongly support the statements concerning the Faculty Council Lounge that were made in last week's editorial concerning the Student Center. We find ourselves obliged to condemn the Administration decision in regard to the use of the Faculty Council Lounge. We feel that the Student Council has not, in this case, been treated with the fairness that has been prominent in other Administration decisions.

Faculty Council Lounge has been the traditional meeting room for Student Council and many other organizations. The Lounge is perfect for conducting a formal meeting and lends to the organization using it a sense of dedication. At the beginning of the planning for the Student Center, a meeting room equivalent to the Faculty Council Lounge was sought. The place occupied currently by the bookstore was felt by several students at that time to be a fine replacement. The reason for this was that the room could hold the physical facilities needed for meetings, and meeting there on Friday would not interfere with other functions held on the same evening. However, the bookstore received the space with students being assured that the Faculty Council Lounge would still be used for meetings when the Center opened.

This term the Center opened and immediately Student Council was not allowed to meet in the Faculty Council Lounge. The reason for this was that the Lounge was to be used on Friday evenings for academic endeavors. Realizing that academic work is the primary function of the college, Council shifted its meeting room to 1221. This room has not been ideal, as music from the music class in room 1220 has often interrupted the meeting and the membership of Student Council is larger than the room can accommodate. However, Student Council has again been fair by taking the room instead of its rightful place in the Student Center since it is not allowed to use Faculty Council Lounge. If Council used a room in the Student Center, it would drastically reduce the number of party rooms available.

The Faculty Council Lounge has not been used on any Friday this term. Council could see itself inconvenienced for academic endeavors, but not when the room in question lies unused. Regardless of what future plans may be made for the Faculty Council Lounge, as long as it is not being used, Council has the right to meet there. A recent example of the Faculty Administration decision not allowing Student Council to use the Faculty Council Lounge was on Thursday, November 10, at a class meeting there. The Student Center was being used for an Evening Session. The Faculty Council Lounge was not used. Council was not allowed to use it and was forced to convene an Evening Session in a room in the Student Center and depriving them of their club functions.

Until Faculty Council is used for academic endeavors, Student Council should request that the room be meeting there.

S.C. President

Insignium

Students not on Student Council, but interested in participating on the Insignium Committee this semester, must submit a letter of application to SC President Howard Mistel by Friday.

Applicants must also appear at the meeting Friday at 4 in 1221 of the main building. There are two vacancies on the committee.

The committee grants awards to graduating seniors for outstanding extra-curricular achievement. The classifications are Honors, High Honors and Highest Honors.

To the Editor of THE TICKER: We have sent the following letter to Dean Emanuel Saxe: Dear Dean Saxe:

This semester marks the first time that students have been asked to maintain their photo-identification cards.

We have questioned the fullness of the identification in previous semesters. We believe that the identification cards would fulfill their purposes. As of this date we have not seen the identification cards used for admission to the Center.

There have been many questions raised as to the process used in sending the identification cards to the students. There are many students who have not received the identification cards for this year and also many who have received the two previous years' cards.

We would like to inquire into the effectiveness of the present procedure. There has been a great increase in the number of color photographs. We believe that there is really no need for this additional expenditure.

In conclusion, we believe the present procedure is not necessary. The identification cards have not served their original purpose. We therefore request an evaluation of the effectiveness of the program.

Baaron Wins Star Role In Theatron Production

Ever since he played a "milk bottle" in grammar school, Lou Baaron has wanted to become an actor. At the pace this City College student is going, one is inclined to think his dream is coming true.

Lou Baaron

Lou, a good-looking lad with dark eyes and dark hair, has the feature role of Erwin Trowbridge in Theatron's upcoming production of "Three Men on a Horse." A very polite and quiet boy, Lou possesses a great deal of what is called "stage presence" in the theatrical world. This quality has come from his many experiences in the theatre.

Having become professionally interested in acting about four years ago, Lou has performed on stage with such well known actors as John Ireland in "Picnic," Marie Wilson in "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter," and Keefe Braselle in "The Seven Year Itch." He has also worked with such fine veterans of the theatre as Luther Adler and Albert Dekker. He has also appeared in the first American production of Jean Genet's "Death Watch."

Sigma Alpha Aids Faculty

Sigma Alpha is sponsoring a high school contact program and is in need of students to accompany members of the faculty to these schools. Students will be asked to speak briefly about the extra-curricular program at the Baruch School according to the following schedule:

Fort Hamilton, tomorrow, 8:55 A.M.; Midwood, Nov. 22, 1:30; Fashion Industries, Nov. 22, 2:30; Franklin Lane, Nov. 23, 9:00 A.M.; Andrew Jackson, tomorrow, 8:30 P.M.; Julia Richmond, Nov. 28, 2:45 P.M.; Sheepshead Bay, Nov. 30, 10:00 A.M.; Long Island City, Dec. 5; and Bayside, Dec. 12.

All those who are interested should leave their address and telephone number at the Sigma Alpha office, 418 of the Student Center.

Theatron has set November 17 as the date on which all tickets will be placed off reserve. If any school organization has not fully paid for their reserved tickets by then, they will lose them.

Tickets may be purchased from Theatron members and at the Student Center Lobby. The prices are: $1.00, $1.25, and $1.50 for Friday night, and $1.25, $1.50 and $1.75 for Saturday night.

Get the facts about a career with Con Edison

Con Edison is in the midst of a huge expansion program to serve a constantly growing New York—the world's most dynamic city. In five years we're spending over a billion dollars to build new plants, sub-stations and distribution facilities and to find new and better ways to meet our city's increasing demand for electricity, gas and steam.

Our tremendous growth is increasing the need for creative and ambitious college graduates—in both technical and non-technical fields. In the next fifteen years 750 of the 791 top management positions in the company will fall vacant—mainly through retirement. These important positions will be filled largely by men who join us now. Our carefully planned program for college graduates offers a good starting salary, major assignments at once and rapid advancement.

So why not get all the facts about the many interesting and worthwhile careers Con Edison has to offer...pick up a copy of our booklet "Con Edison The Right Place To Build Your Future" at the Placement Office and be sure to talk with our interviewer when he comes.

Interviewers will be here at C.C.N.Y. NOVEMBER 22 to tell you about the unusual job opportunities Con Edison can offer you.

Karlinmen Lose to Pratt, 3-1 To Cap Disappointing Year

By Marty Perl

City College closed out its 1960 soccer season Friday with a 3-1 loss to Pratt Institute. It was the first time in 13 years that the Cannonneers have defeated the Beavers. In 1958 and 1959, the two squads played to 2-2 and 1-1 ties, both times in well-played games.

The loss dropped City to a third-place berth in the final Metropolitan League standings behind undefeated Brooklyn College and once-beaten Pratt. Brooklyn's "eleven" defeated City 3-2 earlier in the year.

No excuses could be offered for the Pratt defeat; the Beavers were simply outplayed. Andy Houtkruyer, the City goal-keeper, made a fantastic 41 saves to ward off other Cannonneer threats. This was the two-year veteran's final game for City, as he is due to graduate in June.

The lone Beaver goal was scored by Aldo Gambardella.

The victory practically assured Pratt of a bid to defend their NAIA championship. The Cannonneers will not be offered a berth in the NCAA playoffs because they have freshmen on the varsity squad.

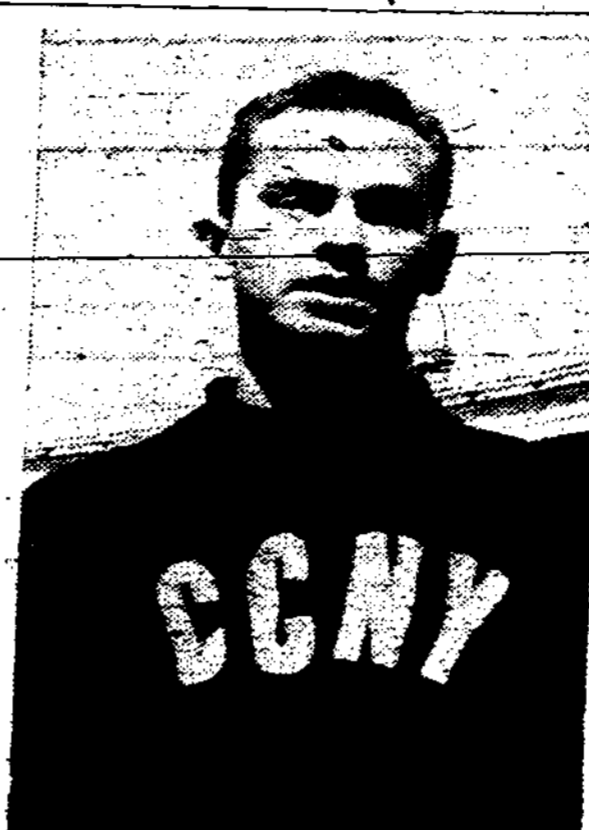

City finished the season with a 7-3 record, 6-2 in the League and 1-1 in outside games, having defeated RPI and losing to Brockport.

Coach Harry Karlin is losing six starters who will graduate this year. They are Hugh Bobb, Gambardella, Houtkruyer, co-captain Eloy Pereira, Vic Polifano and Karl Racevskis.

In addition, Baruchian Bob Berkson and substitute goalie Tony Papa will graduate in June. Berkson, who has played as many as eight of the sport's eleven positions, has often been referred to as Karlin's "second team." Queens Game

Eloy Pereira

Bob Berkson

Earlier last week, City scored a come-from-behind 4-3 victory over Queens. Two fourth period goals by Tony Vanius led the Beavers to their final victory of the season. Karl Racevskis and Baruchian John Costalas also tallied for the Karlinmen.
