2012

Jackson teaches African-American life with literature

Aldemaro Romero Jr.
CUNY Bernard M Baruch College

Recommended Citation
https://academicworks.cuny.edu/bb_pubs/720

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Baruch College at CUNY Academic Works. It has been accepted for inclusion in Publications and Research by an authorized administrator of CUNY Academic Works. For more information, please contact AcademicWorks@cuny.edu.
Jackson teaches African-American life with literature

The history of African-Americans has become more relevant in the American psyche thanks in large part to literature. Many authors, whether African-American or not, have incorporated the narrative of blacks in America as an essential part of American history. Someone who studies and teaches this literature can make a great impact.

Dr. Jackson teaching students at SIUE.

"African-American literature is rooted in American history because so much of the experience of African-Americans has contrasted with the ideals of the United States," she said. "That is to say that students understand that this American history is because much of African-American literature is rooted in American history. Jackson said, "It is about dealing with some very harsh realities and hypocrisies about the ideals of American history. Those are the ideals on which this country was founded and this literature is about the opposite of that. And sometimes that is very different than what students deal with."

Jackson has also been looking at some black culture. "I started to look at some of the issues surrounding black under-world and black criminality," she said.

Continued from Page 1

Boulevard

Continued from Page 1

Boulevard is open 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. Monday through Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. Food is served until 11 p.m. and dinner is served until 2 a.m. on Saturday.

The menu is built around hamburgers and chicken wings. The meat is fresh, never frozen. The bar hosted a fundraiser for SIUE Sigmas Epsilon and Phi Kappa Psi fraternities.

Boulevard's Black & White Night takes place every Thursday. It features a $1 Black & White Special and $1 POPCORN and a $1 OFF of any regular-sized pitcher of domestic beer. Check out the entertainment for this weekend below:

Friday, February 17

Anat Cohen Quartet, Jazz at the bist, St. Louis, 7:30 p.m.
Air Supply, Lumiere Place, St. Louis, 7:30 p.m. & 8:30 p.m.
George Strait w/ Matt Nathanson, Scottrade Center, St. Louis, 8 p.m.
Radio Star, Fast Eddie's Bar & Billiard, St. Louis, 9 p.m.
 lựa chọn của bạn
Julie Jahn’s “Roast” at the Hard Rock Cafe. St. Louis, 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.
Belinda Lee: Inside Out/Outside In, COCA, St. Louis, 8 p.m.
Silver Roots: Japan Meets World, Blanche M. Touhill Performing Arts Center, St. Louis, 8 p.m.
Christodoulos Panayiotou: One Thousand and One Nights (Front Bar)/Hobo Jungle, 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m.
Beliveau and St. Clair county officials to combine forces.

In the past, he said, agents could watch a crack buy and follow the user all the way home before making the arrest. heroin.

The region started seeing a dramatic rise in heroin use in 2010, said St. Clair County Sheriff’s Department Maj. Darrell Scott, The Old Rock House, St. Louis, 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Afterward, Coles said police officers were disappointed with the weak charges had the jury ruled the death to be an accident.

By the way, he had lost his job. Pride alcoholic level was found to be 0.3, which is over the legal limit of intoxication in Illinois. When Coles asked him how he had picked up call he "he said he had a baby in a crudely made kit," like carrying a baby in a plastic bag.

Afterward, Coles said police officers were disappointed with the weak charges had the jury ruled the death to be an accident.

By the way, he had lost his job. Pride alcoholic level was found to be 0.3, which is over the legal limit of intoxication in Illinois. When Coles asked him how he had picked up call he "he said he had a baby in a crudely made kit," like carrying a baby in a plastic bag.

Afterward, Coles said police officers were disappointed with the weak charges had the jury ruled the death to be an accident.

By the way, he had lost his job. Pride alcoholic level was found to be 0.3, which is over the legal limit of intoxication in Illinois. When Coles asked him how he had picked up call he "he said he had a baby in a crudely made kit," like carrying a baby in a plastic bag.

Afterward, Coles said police officers were disappointed with the weak charges had the jury ruled the death to be an accident.