Free Tuition Threatened

We are disturbed by the action the State Senate has taken in granting the Board of Higher Education the authority to charge tuition at the municipal colleges. If the Assembly also votes for the passage of Governor Rockefeller's "scholar incentive" bill then the statutory requirement for "gratuitous" education at the municipal colleges will be officially deleted.

While this would not be a catastrophic event, it would be a step in the wrong direction. Namely, it may bring the day closer when tuition charges will be instituted at the municipal colleges.

We do not believe the board, as presently constituted, would institute a tuition charge. To substantiate this feeling, we cite a B.H.E. spokesman who said that the board is "solidly in favor of free tuition."

However, despite our confidence in the board and despite our belief that it sincerely believes in the principle of free higher education, we oppose authority being given to any group, including the B.H.E., when such authority would enable that group to impose a tuition charge at the city colleges.

As we said in an editorial earlier this semester, "The decision as to whether or not to charge tuition at the city colleges should not rest with any person or organization, including the B.H.E. Free tuition must remain as a statutory regulation." We still feel the same way.

Governor Rockefeller has been conspicuously silent in not declaring his feelings toward free higher education. The Governor's ambiguous education address to the state legislature earlier in the year was a victory for the city colleges only to the extent that he did not declare himself in favor of tuition charges. But that victory was a dubious one in that it paved the way for the passage of his "scholar incentive" bill in the Senate, embodying the removal of the word "gratuitous" from the lawbooks.

On February 27, State Senator Joseph Zaretski accused the Governor of planning to increase the membership of the B.H.E. from twenty-one to twenty-eight, with the Governor to name all the new members. Senator Zaretski predicted that the Governor's agents on the board would then force a tuition charge on the municipal colleges.

Governor Rockefeller denied the charges and we stated then that we doubted that he would ever attempt such a maneuver. However, we would be happier if the situation did not permit just such a thing to occur. We do not ever want to see the day when a Board of Higher Education, empowered to do so, imposes a tuition charge on the city colleges.

By passing the "scholar incentive" bill with the deletion clause, the State Senate has done an injustice to the municipal college system and we hope the Assembly will not further perpetuate this folly. Unfortunately, we fear that our hopes will not be realized.

Latin America To Be Viewed

Herbert L. Matthews, foreign correspondent and editorial writer for The New York Times, will give a series of three lectures at the Uptown Branch of the City College. The title of the series will be "Turnoil in Latin America." The lectures will be delivered tomorrow, March 22, and 29 at Townsend Hall, all three beginning at 5 p.m.

The first lecture will be entitled "The Cuban Revolution." It will be followed by a lecture on "The Revolution's Influence in Latin America." The third topic that will be presented will be "The Problem for the United States."

All students interested in attending any or all of the lectures should contact any member of the History Department.

Mr. Matthews is a graduate of Columbia University's Class of 1922. He began his newspaper career as New York Times correspondent to Paris and covered both the Ethiopian and Spanish Civil Wars.

Dr. Seymour Lipset, Ford Research Professor at Yale for 1960-61 will also speak tomorrow, beginning at 8. He will discuss "The Social Conditions of Democracy" in 126 Shepard Hall.

In addition, Thurgood Marshall, legal counsel of the N.A.A.C.P., will speak to the City College Chapter of the A.A.U.P. Thursday at 12:45 on the sit-in problem. Students are invited to attend.

Arluck to Talk About 'Dreams'

Professor Edward W. Arluck

Professor Edward W. Arluck of the Psychology Department will speak Thursday at 12 in the Oak Lounge of the Student Center on "Dream Analysis."

This summer, Doctor Arluck visited psychological meetings at Bonn, Germany and Edinburgh, Scotland. In addition he visited universities in Finland, Great Britain, Ireland and the Scandinavian countries.

During 1957-1958, Dr. Arluck and his wife registered as regular students at the C.G. Jung Institute of Analytical Psychology in Zurich. He wrote about his experiences at the Jung Institute in last term's Literary Supplement.

Dr. Arluck spoke on Zen Buddhism before a group last term. He said that, as in psychology, the object of Zen Buddhism is "well-being." Zen may help one to achieve an idea of the purpose of life by showing one how to achieve a certain objectivity, he stated.

The Foreign Trade Society will meet Thursday at 12 in 712.

Dr. Israel of the History Department will conduct a one-hour tour of the historic Gramercy Park area next Tuesday under the sponsorship of Sigma Alpha. The group will meet in front of the History Department office on the seventh floor at 2.

The Brothers of Kappa Rho Tau wish a speedy recovery to their faculty advisor, Mr. Nathan Glassman.

Hillel's Dance Group meets every Friday from 2-3 in 307A of the Student Center. There is a $5.00 per term charge for non-members.

A bridge tournament will be held Thursday at 12 in the Quiet Game Room of the Student Center.

Tickets and reservations for Mardi Gras are available in the Student Center lobby. A ten percent deposit must accompany all reservations and tickets on reserve must be paid for in full by March 30.

An evening at the Metropolitan Opera to see "Rigoletto" is being planned for April 5 during the Spring Vacation. Tickets ($3.40) are limited. Interested students should contact Sigma Alpha in 418 of the Student Center.

Hillel will hold a dance Saturday at 8 in the Student Center. Al Statyn and the Stereos will entertain. Dress is informal.

A selection for the position of vice-president of the Class of '63 will be held Thursday at 1 in 802. In other Class of '63 business, Harvey Sadoff was elected to the vacant seat on Student Council.

All tickets for Theatron's production, "Damn Yankees," will go off reserve Thursday at 12. Any tickets on reserve not called for before that time will go on general sale.

The Senior Prom will definitely be held this semester. The entire $20 must be submitted by March 30.

The services of the Division of Counseling and Testing are available.

The Accounting Society has selected William Etkin, C.P.A., as its speaker for Thursday's meeting to be held in 1203 at 12:15.

The subject of Mr. Etkin's talk will be "Small vs. Large Accounting Firms for the Beginning Junior Accountant."

Mr. Etkin, a graduate of the Baruch School, is a partner in the firm of Clarence Raines & Co., C.P.A.'s, and is a member of the New York State Society of Certified Public Accountants' Federal Tax Committee.

able to students seeking counseling in the area of personal, social or vocational problems. The Division is located in 907 and is open to students daily. Appointments may be made in person or by calling OR 3-7700, extension 53.

The Economics Society will hold a student-faculty luncheon Thursday in the Student Center at 12:15. The luncheon is open only to members of the Society.

Columbia University will debate the Baruch School debating team Thursday at 4 in 200 of the Student Center. The topic will be the national scene and Columbia will be represented by a negative team.

Refreshments will be served.

A $5 deposit is due by May 5 for a trip September 8, 9 and 10 to Surprise Lake Camp. The trip is being sponsored by the Class of '63, but all students at the Baruch School may attend. For further information see Mike Kreitzer, Lynn Tashman or Paul Dann.

The next meeting of the Education Society will be held Thursday at 12:15 in 1107. Plans for Career Day will be discussed.

Hillel will hold a dance Saturday at 8 in the Student Center. Al Statyn and the Stereos will entertain. Dress is informal.

Letters to The Editor

The Editor of THE TICKER: The Tuesday Student Council, in conjunction with the History Department and the Foreign Society, presented the first proposed series of seminars designed to awaken student awareness in international problems.

The first seminar, which was held to Algerian problems, Mr. Etkin of the History Department presented the historical background of Algeria in a well-informed and impressive manner. The program was successful except for the fact that very few students attended the seminar and consequently the benefits derived were limited. Furthermore, seven of the fifteen students who attended were Student Council members.

The seminars presented by Student Council are designed to benefit the entire student body. The seminar was held between 12:40 and 4 on a Tuesday afternoon: some when many students do not have classes. Once again the students without previous comments saw it better to spend time by rushing home in order to obtain a seat on the train, to attend the very informative seminar.

It is even brings up the question as to whether or not the seminar should be lengthened from 9 to 5. However, we believe the students should voluntarily attend these and similar seminars without any indirect pressure being coerced them into doing so.

We hope that the student body attend the remaining three seminars, the next one scheduled for Friday, March 24 on the problems of the Congo.

week about the blood bank which is to be held in the Student Center on Wednesday, March 15.

The program is run by Student Council with the assistance of Alpha Phi Omega and Boosters. It behooves me to inform you that this semester's blood bank will be run by Alpha Phi Omega, assisted by Boosters. Is the staff of THE TICKER so by-line hungry that an article which was submitted to you containing the proper information could not be used? Once more Ticker has proven to be a bland and misleading publication.

The Blood Drive, one of the most important events of the semester, was crowded almost out of the Ticker by the adulation expressed by the editors over President Kennedy's Peace Corps. I think it marvelous that Ticker place itself along with the nation's great dailies in news coverage, please don't forget the more mundane affairs run in your own backwater. Is the Ticker nothing more than a tabloid press digest? If so where are the bulletins about Elizabeth Taylor's medical condition? Since Ticker is giving worldwide and national coverage to the news I think it imperative that it set up news bureaus in Hong-Kong, Paris and Ulan Bator, why use second hand news? why not go out and get your own? When these conditions are fulfilled then Ticker might compete with the News or Mirror.

Until then please leave the world to the Times and concentrate on affairs at the Baruch School. The world stands out on either side, but the Baruch School is located on Twenty-third Street and Lexington Avenue. I would suggest that the editors open their eyes and take a long look at that address.

Accounting Majors Top List Of Specialization Fields

By Marilyn Karlin

Public accounting is the most popular specialization at the Baruch School, according to figures released to THE TICKER by the registrar's office. The June, 1960 figures show that public accounting majors comprised 34.55 per cent of the graduates, while the twenty other specializations produced an average of less than four per cent per specialization.

Major	Specialization Enrollment
	June 1960 (percentage)	Feb. 1961 (percentage)
Accounting—Private	3.4	4.20
Accounting—Public	34.55	30.68
Advertising	6.02	6.73
Business Management
Production	6.81	8.40
Small Business	2.88	4.62
Business Statistics		2.94
Credit and Collection Management	1.57	2.52
Economics	5.23	2.52
Finance and Investment	3.93	6.30
Industrial Psychology	6.28	2.30
Insurance	1.83	2.10
International Trade	4.19	2.94
Marketing Management		2.94
Marketing Research	.26
Office Management & Secretarial Studies	1.57	1.68
Personnel & Industrial Relations	.78	5.47
Police Science	3.93	.42
Public Administration	3.67	2.52
Real Estate	2.36	2.52
Retailing	3.67	4.20
Sales Management	3.67	2.94
Statistics	3.14
Teaching of Business Subjects	.26
Traffic Management		.42

The percentage of public accounting majors in the February, 1961 graduating class was 30.68, while the other majors accounted for 69.32 per cent of the graduates. All figures pertain to Day Session students who have been graduated with B.B.A. degrees. Day Session students include all those who have taken over 50 per cent of their credits in the Day Session.

In the June term, out of 382 graduates, 132 majored in public accounting. There was one graduate each in the fields of marketing research and statistics.

In the February semester, 73 out of 238 students specialized in public accounting, with police science and traffic management each having one graduate.

The June figures show six specializations with less than two per cent of the students in each. These were credit and collection management, insurance, marketing research, office management and secretarial studies, personnel and industrial relations and the teaching of business subjects.

Gluck Tells SAM Members About 'Social Responsibility'

By Ellen Cahn

Dr. Gluck of the Philosophy Department discussed the topic of "Social Responsibility" before the Society for the Advancement of Management Thursday. He stated that it is possible and necessary to analyze in a technical sense problems of management in an industrial society.

Dr. Gluck continued that this can be done by showing that "these problems and their alternative solutions can be dealt with in classical philosophical terms."

Today, for example, management is constantly reminded that it has "social responsibilities" and books are written that claim to tell management precisely what these responsibilities are. He emphasized that "to moralize is one thing, while to analyze the philosophy of a genuine philosophy."

In expounding further on the purpose of his lecture, Dr. Gluck stated that he wished to show that any statement about what management "ought" to do has to not only be related to social fact, but also to the basic traditional issues of social philosophy.

He feels that the pressures upon management which force it to make irrevocable decisions have tended to force management away from seeing its need for a genuine philosophy.

Publicity

The following is a list of stairway bulletin boards in the Student Center and the manner in which they are allocated:

West Stairway: No. 1 landing between first and second floors—day; No. 2 landing between second and third floors—evening; No. 3 landing between third and fourth floors—day.

East Stairway: No. 4 on the fourth floor—evening; No. 5 on the third floor—day; No. 6 landing between second and third floors—evening; No. 7 on the second floor—day; and No. 8 landing between first and second floors—evening.

If an organization desires to utilize these boards, it should submit a regular publicity application.

Riflemen Cop Second In St. John's Contest

By Steve Rappaport

City College's sharpshooters placed second in the annual St. John's invitational rifle tournament Saturday on the host's Hillcrest (Queens) range. The Redmen won the tourney by scoring 1157 points to the Beavers' 1147. However, City stretched its undefeated league victory streak to 16 by crushing Manhattan 1425 to 1382 Friday on the loser's Riverdale range.

In the St. John's meet Tom Picunko paced C.C.N.Y. by tallying 291 points out of a possible 300. He was tied with Bill Ryan of the Redmen. Picunko, a senior, scored 95 in the standing position, 100 in the prone and 96 in the kneeling.

Other schools entering teams in the tournament were St. Peter's, New York Community College, Manhattan, Fordham, Brooklyn Poly and Brooklyn College.

Against Manhattan, Don Nunns, a senior from Brooklyn Tech, was high man for City, shooting 290. Picunko followed him with 289.

Bill Coyle and John Curtin lead the Jaspers scoring 282 and 278, respectively.

This win moved the Beavers closer to a first place finish in the Metropolitan Inter-Collegiate Rifle League. For the past two seasons the Lavender has held the second spot behind St. John's. However, this year City has already defeated the defending champion in their league match 1422-1414 and has only two meets remaining. They are against Rutgers and Stevens Tech Friday and New York University and Brooklyn the following Friday. These matches will be held on the Lewisohn Stadium range at 6.

With the exception of tournaments, the nimrods, coached by Sergeant I. C. Bernard Kelly, have been undefeated in 27 matches over a two-season span. The Beavers have won 19 consecutive matches this season including the 16 in league competition.

Flashbacks

Twenty-Two Years Ago This Week
C.C.N.Y.'s hoopsters defeated N.Y.U. for the first time in five years. 38-27. Harvey Lozman paced the Beaver attack by calmly sinking shots from beyond the foul line. After the game loyal City students snake danced down Broadway at Times Square.

Nineteen Years Ago This Week
The Beaver basketball team capped a fine season with a bid to the National Invitational Tournament against Western Kentucky.

Fifteen Years Ago This Week
Nat Holman's club finished the season 13-4, but failed to receive a spot in the N.I.T.

Fourteen Years Ago This Week
Dolph Schayes and Sid Tannenbaum could not prevent City from scoring a 91-60 victory over favored N.Y.U. before a capacity crowd at Madison Square Garden.

Eleven Years Ago This Week
Led by Ed Warner and Ed Roman, the Beaver basketball team received a bid to the N.I.T. against San Francisco.

Four Years Ago This Week
C.C.N.Y. was scheduled to oppose Mount St. Mary's College in an opening round game of the small college N.C.A.A. Tournament.

Bombers Top All-Stars In Intramural Tourney

By Jay Weller

The Bronx Bombers coasted to a 30-16 win over the out-classed Ta-Go-La All-Stars as the Baruch School's Intramural Basketball Tournament continued Thursday. Johnny Anbrochino scored 16 points for the winners. Tau Epsilon Phi nosed out the Phi Sigma Delta "A" squad 30-27 in a hard-fought battle. Al Kaufman and Stu Weiner led T.E.P. with 8 and 7 points respectively.

In another fraternity duel, A.E.Pi. led by Gary Fersten with 17 points, defeated a shorter Phi Epsilon Pi team 48-21. Hunt '63 "A" showed real class as they rolled over Dean '63 35-19. Gary Katz had 12 for Hunt and Myron Handler led Dean with 10 points. Harvey Kornberg scored 12 points for Lamport '64 as they nipped Parks House 20-18. Charlie Nussbaum had 8 for the losers. The Galloping Ghosts, Marty Silverstein scoring 13, bested Saxe '63 23-20.

Women's Day will be held Thursday in the Gym from 12-2. There will be a team volleyball tournament which house plans as clubs are encouraged to enter.

Men's Individual Swimming will take place Thursday between 12 and 1 with many events being held. The Ping Pong Tournament is now in progress and additional entrants are now being accepted. Ping Pong will be played in the Auxiliary Gym on the 6th floor Thursday between 12-2.

The Intramural Board will sponsor an outdoor Golf Tourney at Reis Park and at Jones Beach. The Tournament will be divided into three divisions: Hackers, Amateurs and Advanced. Golf balls and clubs will be supplied. This event will be held April 13-14. For further information inquire 610A.

Applications are due now for the Intramural Softball Tournament which begins Thursday, April 13th.
