

Motion Tabled to Send Letter to Ole Miss SC Planning Commission Omits School's Funds from Budget

By Florence Gross

A motion by Student Council Vice President Neil Palomba to send a letter to the student body president of the University of Mississippi, was postponed until the next meeting. The motion to postpone was made by Neil Goldman '65, passing 20-1-3. Palomba's motion would ask the student body president to use his authority to prevent further violence and encourage acceptance of Meredith as a student on an equal basis. However, recent releases indicated that the motion in its present form, would not be passed because action had already been taken.

At the August '64 meeting, the Student Council made a motion to amend Article eight, Section one of the charter which in effect would permit Alpha Phi Omega to use its Lighthouse for the charity drive from one to ten. Suspension was agreed upon to debate the motion until P.O. an extension of time. At the next meeting, the motion failed 10-

A motion sponsored by the Student Council was presented by Don Glickman '63, an Alpha Phi Omega member, regarding the granting of a charter to the Student Council proposed committee "will look favorably upon all organizations whose charity is directed toward aiding students and or educational programs on a local, national or international level." The motion passed 16-3-6.

Charter Committee elections were held and a representative from each class was elected. They are Don Glickman '63, Jeff Levitt '64, Fred Schwartz '65, and Paul Zarrett '66. The function of this committee is to consider all proposed charter amendments, and to decide whether or not the amendments should be passed.

The Board of Higher Education's request for $2,050,000 for site acquisition and plans for the Baruch School was omitted from the City Planning Commission's tentative budget. The budget had previously been approved by the B.H.E. at its first board meeting of the semester.

Dr. Buell G. Gallagher, president of City College, told THE TICKER in a telephone interview that he was "disappointed in not seeing" the funds included in the tentative budget. However, he emphasized that this budget was not necessarily the one which would finally be approved by the commission. President Gallagher stated that he had not abandoned his hopes of seeing this item included in the actual budget.

We made every effort, said President Gallagher, to persuade the commission to include the $2,050,000 in its temporary budget. "We had visits from commission members" to the school to emphasize this effort, said the president.

According to a statement by the commission, "Omission of these (items) does not mean that they are looked upon with disfavor as such." The rejection of these items, read the statement, simply means that they are open to more discussion.

It was the hope of Dr. Rosenberg, chairman of the Board of Higher Education, that the City University "would have the funds available in order to secure a site within the next two years." The recommendation for a new building was made in the study of the role of the Baruch School made by Dr. Donald P. Cottrell for the board and completed last spring.

Dr. Buell G. Gallagher

Dr. Gallagher expressed surprise that the temporary budget did not include the necessary funds for the Baruch School. He said he "thought it would be there." The president stated that the rejection of funds should not be taken as a closed door. "Rather," he noted, "it appears that there are numerous questions which need to be answered, including alternative possibilities for the use of sites."

Dr. Gallagher also noted that Dr. Govin Sahai, United Nations delegate from India, will discuss contemporary problems and progress in Indian education at City College Thursday at 4:15 in 320 Klapper Hall, 135th Street and Convent Avenue.

A minister of Upper Pradesh India, Dr. Sahai represents his government in the U.N. Third Committee which deals with matters of education, welfare, and human rights. His speech, entitled "Education in India Today," will describe all levels of educational facilities in Asia's second most populous nation. Members of the Indian delegation to the seventeenth U.N. General Assembly will accompany Dr. Sahai.

A Groups; Discuss Student Ideas

A workshop conference, run for students representing fifteen New York-Metropolitan-New Jersey chapters of the National Student Association October 5-7, at the New Rochelle.

Baruch School was represented by Don Glickman, N.S.A. Treasurer; Jeff Barash, Student Treasurer; Merrie Wilensky, Student Treasurer; Vincent Flynn.

The purpose of the conference was to develop more qualified campus leaders and familiar with the structure of N.S.A. declared that "it was in the ideals of N.S.A. into practical programs of student government the starting point for student government achieving better educational standards, promoting inter-campus understanding, and improving physical and cultural life of the student."

The conference, the staff conference professional trainers National Training Laboratory and national officers of the N.S.A. conference format was divided into training groups, each of ten and fifteen students in general sessions in which the federal government in higher education, and due process procedures for students who have been accused of some action.

Brooks Emphasizes Importance Of 'Aware, Concerned' Student

Bob Brooks, president of Student Council, discussed the importance of having a student body that is both aware and concerned with the myriad of problems that exist in the world today, in an interview with THE TICKER last week.

Brooks noted that Council's National Student Association Committee would bring many of these problems to the student for consideration. He stated that resolutions discussed and debated at the past N.S.A. Congress by students from America and abroad would be presented to Student Council for evaluation this term.

The Council president said that this program of awareness would be commenced Friday with the resolution concerning nuclear testing. "This will be followed in subsequent weeks with motions concerning the McCarran Act, the Cunningham Amendment, in loco parentis (the extent of supervision employed by the faculty and administration over student activities), discriminatory practices in the North and South, the role of the federal government in higher education, and due process procedures for students who have been accused of some action."

Bob Brooks

Brooks stated that there are two major reasons for presenting motions of such magnitude for Council's consideration. First, he noted, "it is the obligation of every member school of N.S.A. to debate and evaluate the motions that were discussed at the N.S.A. Congress. In this manner, the individual college could inform N.S.A.'s main office of its view about the resolution.

"Only with all the views of member schools available can N.S.A. be truly representative," added Brooks.

"The second reason is of more importance than the first and concerns the entire concept of student responsibility and student awareness," Brooks continued.

"Too many students believe that it is not in the province of a student governing body to discuss matters of nuclear testing, discrimination, etc. Others believe that discussion of these problems and, subsequently, the issuance of statements or other prescribed action, has no effect."

"When I was a freshman I held these identical beliefs," continued Brooks.

Soviet Poems To be Viewed On Thursday

The reading of poems written by Russia's "Angry Young Man" and a talk on the Soviet youth of today by Dr. Fred L. Israel will be presented by the Speech Department, Thursday at 12:30 in 403.

Yevginy Yevtushenka, who gained fame as the symbol of rebellion among young Russian people, will be represented by his most famous poem, "Babiy Yar." The poem, which denounces anti-Semitism was responsible for his reputation being spread throughout the world and earned him displeasure among Soviet officials.

Professor Edward Mammen declared that Yevtushenka "attracted world wide attention with his attack on old guard mentality in Russia."

"Lies," "Party Card," "Murder," and "School Master" are other Yevtushenka selections to be read.

Dr. Israel, who visited the Soviet Union during the summer, will lead a discussion on the problems of Russian youth as well as lecture.

The meeting, at which refreshments will be served, will feature Professors Louis Levy, Earl Ryan, Raymond Kestenbaum and Mammen. Rosalind Hirsch, Margaret Servino, and Reginald Lawrence are other faculty members who will participate.

Refusal

Once again, the Baruch School has been left waiting out in the rain. Our School, which has been on this site longer than any other city college has been on its site, has received its annual refusal of funds.

Several weeks ago, the Board of Higher Education approved $2,000,000 for site acquisition and $50,000 for plans for the School. This amount had to be approved by the City Planning Commission, but the commission eliminated this item from its tentative budget.

President Buell G. Gallagher, in an interview with THE TICKER, emphasized that although he was disappointed, he still believed that the needed funds might be obtained, as this budget is only temporary. We wish we could be as optimistic as the president, but we cannot.

The Baruch School is truly the underdog of the City University. Of course, we realize that the City Planning Commission only has a certain amount of money with which to work, but why is it that this money always runs out just before the Baruch School comes up for appropriations. We would like to know where the commission obtained the money to pay for the new administration and technology buildings uptown, the new auditorium at Queens College, and the new student center at Brooklyn College.

We urge the commission to reconsider its plans to delete funds for the Baruch School's use. We are tired of being seen as the orphan of the City University, always the last to receive any aid. We fulfill a vital and important part in the educational process of New York City, and it is time that we were treated with due respect.

Responsibility

At its Friday night meeting, Student Council faces a familiar problem. Its members will once again be divided as to the part City College students should play in relation to the world outside their School.

In the past, Council has been split along these lines on such problems as Cuba and sit-ins.

Regardless of the topic, the question itself remains the same. Should college students play an active role in events which do not directly, or so some say, affect them currently?

First, students should realize that everything going on in the world affects them. How can they be so blind as to say that it is nothing to them whether or not we continue nuclear testing or whether or not we protest the continuance of such testing. Perhaps they believe that the walls of the Baruch School are strong enough to keep radiation away or that the draft will never reach inside the protecting walls of a city college. How wrong they are.

Second, there are those who believe that students should only voice their opinions on topics when they are sure it will achieve the desired result. Of course, it is always more pleasant to work for something when we are certain of victory, but unfortunately life is not like that. We must work for something because we believe are correct, whether we believe we will gain our goal or not. Naturally, victory is sweet, but so is the effort if the goal is good.

We ask students at the School to realize their obligations to take an active part in the world in which they live, not just in their School.

Robert Morgenthau Gains Support Of School's Young Democratic Club

The Baruch School's Young Democratic Club announced a city-wide rally of students for Robert M. Morgenthau, Democratic-Liberal candidate for governor of New York. The rally will be held at Uptown City in the Grand Ballroom at 12 Thursday.

Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller when asked to share the plan with his Democratic rival, "College students are not those who will cast votes on sign day."

Morgenthau will elaborate Democratic program for raising higher education in New York State. In addition, Manhattan Borough President Edward D. Igoe, candidate for attorney general, will address those in attendance.

Through their Students for Morgenthau Committee, the Young Democratic Club plans to conduct a straw poll in order to determine the standing of the Democratic candidates. In addition, they will bring a prominent Democratic speaker to the School to discuss the issues which concern the students.

In urging students to take part in the election campaign, Siegel, president of the Young Democratic Club, said "the Democratic Club feels that this campaign and the other activities which the club plays a part in offer the student the opportunity to learn more about his government."

The education of a college student should not stop with his classroom work or his corridor companions. For a true education a student should meet fellows striving for all collegiate goals, a difficult task on a campus that is separated from the main body of the school.

Phi Epsilon Pi fraternity recognizes this and for 55 years has combined students of all the college's schools into one body. This opportunity is open to all Baruch men.

Phi Epsilon Pi Fraternity owns the largest fraternity house on campus and one of the largest in the city. It is a member of Downtown and Uptown I.F.C. and is overall athletic champion of the college.

We are proud of our fraternity and hope that you will give yourself the opportunity to observe what a true collegiate fraternity can be like.

"When the presidents of the respective variety stores met to solve the problem, they did not meet with legislators or community leaders, but with student leaders from N.S.A. and member colleges. For it was the college student who had most forcefully led the fight for equality.

"By having the representative governing body, Student Council, discuss these various resolutions, perhaps the disgraceful condition of apathy will be corrected. I would therefore urge students to attend the Council meetings so their views can be heard. Factual information about the different resolutions can be procured in the Council office," Brooks stated.

Brooks emphasized that Council attention on N.S.A. would not mean that other Council areas would be neglected. "N.S.A. is but one of the many vital areas which S.C. will explore this semester."

Booters Edge Hunter On Score by Shelton

By Jeff Palca

Seth Shelton, playing his second varsity game, scored a goal late in the first period to give City College's soccer team a 1-0 victory over Hunter in a Metropolitan Conference contest at Lewisohn Stadium Saturday. The win evened the Beavers' record at 1-1.

The goal was the result of an errant pass by Hunter star Gary Kuti. Kuti tried to pass the ball back to his goalie. City's center forward Mike Somogyi intercepted the ball and passed it to Shelton. With the goalie out of position, Shelton booted the ball into the net.

A superb performance by the Beavers' defense enabled goalie Adolph Putre to post a shutout. Tom Sieberg, Wolfie Scherer, and captain Neville Parker rarely allowed the Hawks to get a good shot at the goal. Mike Pesce and Jani Racevskis also played well.

City outshot Hunter twenty-nine to eleven, but blew many scoring opportunities. Jim Martino, in particular, missed many close chances. Hawk goalie George Simon made several spectacular saves to thwart the scoring efforts.

Karlin is still looking for another forward to strengthen the scoring punch. He hopes that the return of Sam Gelertner and Dominick Salvatore, both of whom are expected to play against Bridgeport Saturday, will give C.C.N.Y. better balance on the front line.

Harriers Win; Beaver Mark Set by Zane

By Joe Rosenberg

Lenny Zane established a City College cross-country record by running the five-mile course in 28:30 as the Beavers crushed Queens and Adelphi in a triangular meet at Van Cortlandt Park Saturday.

City had a low score of seventeen points, while Queens had fifty-one start points. Adelphi entered only four men and did not receive a team total.

Zane's run eclipsed the College record of 28:36 set by Paul Lamprinos last season.

The record-smashing performance overshadowed the under thirty minute finishes of six other Beaver runners. They were Mike Didyk, Mike Lester, John Bourne, Lamprinos, Bill Casey, and Bob Casey. C.C.N.Y. resumes action against Kings Point today at Van Cortlandt Park at 4.

CCNY In Key Game

By David Hauer

Battling for an N.C.A.A. soccer playoff spot, C.C.N.Y. opposes Bridgeport Saturday in Lewisohn Stadium at 2. A win will give the Beavers many points toward the tournament bid.

The Beavers will have a rough time against a strong but young team which is composed of five lettermen and six sophomores. Although the Purple Knights are fast, they lack experience and depth. Bridgeport lost twelve lettermen from last season's team.

Bridgeport's stars are co-captains Roger Curyleo at goalie, and Gus Haita at center half. Both players are senior lettermen who aided the Purple Knights to reach the N.C.A.A. playoffs last year.

In 1961 Bridgeport had an 8-2 record, which included a 4-1 tory over City.

Following this game the Beavers visit Brooklyn for a Metropolitan Conference encounter Saturday, October 27.
