The Highland Arts Council is welcoming entries for the 12th Annual Art, Sciences & Business Juried Show. The show is scheduled for the month of October. The final call for entries is this Saturday, July 12, 2014, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at The Hawg Pit in Grafton.

A special pre-registration event will also take place the same day, at The Hawg Pit in Grafton. Registration for the event is going on now, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The event will feature a live auction of works donated by the artists participating in the show. Visitors are asked to bring cash only. The event is free to the public.

In other news, the Highland Arts Council's Office of Cultural Affairs (www.HighlandArtsCouncil.org) has just announced that the 2014-2015 season will begin with the release of the new calendar. The calendar will be available to the public on the Highland Arts Council website (http://www.highlandarts.org) this fall. The calendar is available for application and materials are currently being collected.

The Falkner Park Foundation will be holding their annual fundraiser during the registration at The Hawg Pit in Grafton. All proceeds will go to the firefighters and the police department. The event will feature the live auction of works donated by the artists participating in the show. The event will be open to the public and is free of charge. The event will be held from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at The Hawg Pit in Grafton.

To ensure the safety of the artists and the general public, the Highland Arts Council requests that all visitors to the show wear face masks. Visitors are also asked to bring cash only. The event is free to the public.

Falkner Park's parking lot will be closed to vehicles for the registration event. The event will be held from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at The Hawg Pit in Grafton.
