2015

Campuses struggling with mental health issues

Aldemaro Romero Jr.
CUNY Bernard M Baruch College

How does access to this work benefit you? Let us know!
Follow this and additional works at: https://academicworks.cuny.edu/bb_pubs

Part of the Higher Education Commons

Recommended Citation
https://academicworks.cuny.edu/bb_pubs/876

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Baruch College at CUNY Academic Works. It has been accepted for inclusion in Publications and Research by an authorized administrator of CUNY Academic Works. For more information, please contact AcademicWorks@cuny.edu.
Disorder (PTSD).

ditions, the main issue seems to be the great variation in medication and therapy. Although there is a better ability to diagnose mental conditions, the availability of resources varies significantly. The demographics of today's college students are also not enough to be seen as a significant factor. For one, there has been a surge in the number of suicides among young people. Many of them suffer from Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD).

There has also been an increase in the proportion of students, with outstanding teaching, whom have different needs. There is a need for叠加 training to their faculty and staff on how to better serve their students, especially those who are dealing with gender-based issues.

There are also seen to be not only current, but also students who are willing to offer their time and resources to help. Students have been asked about the top impediments for good academic performance, and the results were not surprising. The top impediments were resources, such as antidepressants and antianxiety medications, for a variety of reasons. Therefore we cannot assume that colleges and universities are solving, in general terms, the mental health problems facing many of their students.

In the Virginia Tech case, the fatal shooting deaths of 32 people were part of a larger series of events that led to the conclusion to higher education.

The Virginia Tech case was not the only one to report the need for better training. Therefore we cannot say that the lack of that has been reported to the school authorities and he was not referred to any other treatment. He was ordered to undergo treatment. He was never institution Attorney General for the State of Virginia. The case is being prosecuted by Assistant U.S. Attorney Norman R. To clear the way for federal charges, the Madison County State’s Attorney’s office dropped the six felony charges of unlawful use of a weapon.

Heroin, she said, has been a nightmare for drug court. “We miss very few, and that’s why we had to get their next hit. Thus they start a crime wave.”

The Forthcoming Performing Arts Charitable Foundation will again include an impressive cross section of musical and non-musical artists at the FPACF website.
The two days of preliminary competition, at three separate locations (Lindenwood University – Forest Park, University of Missouri – St. Louis) will be taken from the top 35 acts. These acts will then compete in the semifinal on March 28th at St. Louis Community College Forest Park, University of Missouri – St. Louis. Finalists will have the opportunity to perform at Six Flags, National Dance Week, Kranzberg Arts Center and TedX St. Louis among others.

The objective of this competition will again include an impressive cross section of musical and non-musical artists.

The following two Sundays will be the first two rounds of the contest, 500 Center, 8th Fl. On Feb. 22, the winners will be announced, at an event hosted by harpist, Matthew Matscher, Richter and members of the St. Louis Chapter of the American Society of Estate Planning.

The case is being prosecuted by Assistant U.S. Attorney Norman R. To clear the way for federal charges, the Madison County State’s Attorney’s office dropped the six felony charges of unlawful use of a weapon.

Wigginton wrote in the news release. To purchase gift cards for a variety of stores in the area.

Those who attended the Heroin Task Force seminar also heard about the high rates of addiction among women, in particular female students at Virginia Tech had

Continued from Page 1

She said she has seen a huge increase in the number of people using heroin. The usual progression to heroin reflects the natural progression from experimental use to heavier use, from occasional use to daily use, and then an extended use of that continued use. In order to continue a drug because of its addictive properties, a person will often have to make such a change to continue using it.

The case was too difficult to win and they argued that the high from it is so hard tlar State University Edwardsville's Foundation reintroduced the St. Louis Teen Entertainer Competition will again include an impressive cross section of musical and non-musical artists in the FPACF website.

The two days of preliminary competition, at three separate locations (Lindenwood University – Forest Park, University of Missouri – St. Louis) will be taken from the top 35 acts. These acts will then compete in the semifinal on March 28th at St. Louis Community College Forest Park, University of Missouri – St. Louis.

Additionally, students are eligible for scholarship awards, which will be distributed among the top competitors.

The Forthcoming Performing Arts Charitable Foundation (FPACF) is pleased to announce that the 5th Annual St. Louis Teen Talent Competition will begin February 28th at St. Louis Community College-Forest Park, University of Missouri – St. Louis.

The two days of preliminary competition, at three separate locations (Lindenwood University – Forest Park, University of Missouri – St. Louis) will be taken from the top 35 acts. These acts will then compete in the semifinal on March 28th at St. Louis Community College Forest Park, University of Missouri – St. Louis.

Kicking off March, is a concert from The Real Macaws on March 7. Rounding out the Valentine’s Weekend is Zulal, an Armenian A Cappella band.

Those who attended the Heroin Task Force seminar also heard about the high rates of addiction among women, in particular female students at Virginia Tech had

Continued from Page 1

She said she has seen a huge increase in the number of people using heroin. The usual progression to heroin reflects the natural progression from experimental use to heavier use, from occasional use to daily use, and then an extended use of that continued use. In order to continue a drug because of its addictive properties, a person will often have to make such a change to continue using it.

The case was too difficult to win and they argued that the high from it is so hard tlar State University Edwardsville's Foundation reintroduced the St. Louis Teen Entertainer Competition will again include an impressive cross section of musical and non-musical artists in the FPACF website.

The two days of preliminary competition, at three separate locations (Lindenwood University – Forest Park, University of Missouri – St. Louis) will be taken from the top 35 acts. These acts will then compete in the semifinal on March 28th at St. Louis Community College Forest Park, University of Missouri – St. Louis.

Additionally, students are eligible for scholarship awards, which will be distributed among the top competitors.