Special ed student heading to college

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — Aubrey Blake will be among the first special education students in the area to matriculate at MacArthur High School starting this fall. Blake, a 22-year-old from Glen Carbon, was the first student at the school to receive an acceptance offer for the college as the school expands its program to accommodate students with disabilities.

Blake will be among the first students in the school’s new special education program, which is designed to help students with disabilities transition from high school to college. The program will provide students with the skills and support they need to succeed in higher education.

HERRIN, Ill. (AP) — Almost two dozen 5- and 6-year-olds attended the Herrin, Ill., pre-kindergarten program for the final time this week before packing their bags for the upcoming school year.

Even as the state continues to struggle with education funding, the pre-kindergarten program in Herrin is one of many in Illinois that is seeing a rise in enrollment.
