College class of 2019 is a more activist one

Aldemaro Romero Jr.
CUNY Bernard M Baruch College

How does access to this work benefit you? Let us know!

Follow this and additional works at: https://academicworks.cuny.edu/bb_pubs

Part of the Higher Education Commons

Recommended Citation
Romero, Aldemaro Jr., "College class of 2019 is a more activist one" (2016). CUNY Academic Works.
https://academicworks.cuny.edu/bb_pubs/930

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Baruch College at CUNY Academic Works. It has been accepted for inclusion in Publications and Research by an authorized administrator of CUNY Academic Works. For more information, please contact AcademicWorks@cuny.edu.
College class of 2019 is a more activist one

In last week’s column I reported on studies by researchers at the Cooperative Institutional Research Program (CIRP) at the University of California, Los Angeles, showing the need for more efforts in diversifying colleges and universities, especially when it came to issues of inclusion.

Another study by the same group looked at the activism of the first-year entering class of 2015, the one that is expected to graduate in 2019. And you will see why this particular topic is of great concern.

The study, titled “The American Freshman: National Norm Fall 2015” predicts a much more activist group of college students in the years to come. The implications of this can be enormous, not only for college administrators but also for politicians and the general public.

After surveying 141,189 first-time, full-time students at 470 institutions of all types, these researchers found that “the general public.

The second finding is that 61 percent of Asian American/Pacific Islander students the highest level recorded for the 2015 entering group that figure increased to 8.5 percent of students, for the general public.

Further, the entering freshman class of 2015 showed a substantial increase over previous years in placing greater emphasis on wanting to be engaged in community work, and very conservative institution that last September

This is a curious circumstance because higher education institutions are marketed in order to provide academic freedom contrarian views must be not only tolerated but also openly discussed. Yet, the shadow of academic freedom has always maintained that in order to preserve offensiveness. This defen- dor Engel law.

This defen- dor Engel law.

Screening clinic

A physical examination with bone, muscle or joint problems was conducted Saturday, March 5, at Anderson Hospital in Maryville.

The clinic was sponsored by the Troy/Edwardsville Shrine Club of the Ainad Shrine. From left are: Mike Johnson; George Sonneburg, past president; and Dave Casson, Captain of the Guard at Ainad Temple land past president. The group would like to thank Dr. Harvey Mirly for screening approximately 26 children.

Screening clinic

A physical examination with bone, muscle or joint problems was conducted Saturday, March 5, at Anderson Hospital in Maryville. The clinic was sponsored by the Troy/Edwardsville Shrine Club of the Ainad Shrine. From left are: Mike Johnson; George Sonneburg, past president; and Dave Casson, Captain of the Guard at Ainad Temple land past president. The group would like to thank Dr. Harvey Mirly for screening approximately 26 children.

For the Intelligence

For the Intelligence

For the Intelligence

City

Level students, with the guidance of a science lab volunteer, learn the anatomy and dissection technique of a worm in learning inside and out.

Soneburg, past president; and Dave Casson, Captain of the Guard at Ainad Temple land past president. The group would like to thank Dr. Harvey Mirly for screening approximately 26 children.

After surveying 141,189 first-time, full-time students at 470 institutions of all types, these researchers found that “the increasing colleges and universities, especially when it came to issues of inclusion.

The study, titled “The American Freshman: National Norm Fall 2015” predicts a much more activist group of college students in the years to come. The implications of this can be enormous, not only for college administrators but also for politicians and the general public.

After surveying 141,189 first-time, full-time students at 470 institutions of all types, these researchers found that “the general public.

The second finding is that 61 percent of Asian American/Pacific Islander students the highest level recorded for the 2015 entering group that figure increased to 8.5 percent of students, for the general public.

Further, the entering freshman class of 2015 showed a substantial increase over previous years in placing greater emphasis on wanting to be engaged in community work, and very conservative institution that last September

This is a curious circumstance because higher education institutions are marketed in order to provide academic freedom contrarian views must be not only tolerated but also openly discussed. Yet, the shadow of academic freedom has always maintained that in order to preserve offensiveness. This defen- dor Engel law.

This defen- dor Engel law.

Screening clinic

A physical examination with bone, muscle or joint problems was conducted Saturday, March 5, at Anderson Hospital in Maryville. The clinic was sponsored by the Troy/Edwardsville Shrine Club of the Ainad Shrine. From left are: Mike Johnson; George Sonneburg, past president; and Dave Casson, Captain of the Guard at Ainad Temple land past president. The group would like to thank Dr. Harvey Mirly for screening approximately 26 children.

For the Intelligence