Fake universities are not necessarily a rarity

Aldemaro Romero Jr.
CUNY Bernard M Baruch College

Recommended Citation
Romero, Aldemaro Jr., "Fake universities are not necessarily a rarity" (2016). CUNY Academic Works.
https://academicworks.cuny.edu/bb_pubs/935

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Baruch College at CUNY Academic Works. It has been accepted for inclusion in Publications and Research by an authorized administrator of CUNY Academic Works. For more information, please contact AcademicWorks@cuny.edu.
Senior caregivers sought for program

Are you a senior who is looking for part-time companionship and assistance? Then, Madison County Senior Care (MADCO) is looking for you! Madco is looking for mid-day and overnight caregivers. If you are interested, please call 618-727-7181 and ask to speak to the intake coordinator. You must be at least 18 years old. The next intake period is April 2016. You may also contact 618-727-7181 Ext. 8135.

For the Intelligence

FINISH

Continued from Page 1

The kids are great. They’re really enjoying the experience. It’s been fun,” said Roby. “But they are learning a valuable life lesson. They are having to do chores and work in all kinds of weather.”

The children are learning the importance of teamwork and how to work together on a project. They are learning about responsibility and the importance of following instructions. They are also learning about the value of hard work and perseverance.

Once the project is completed, the children will be able to enjoy their hard work. They will be able to ride their new bikes and use the tools they learned about. They will also be able to share their knowledge with others. They will be able to teach their friends and family about the importance of teamwork and hard work.

Dr. Aldemaro Romero Jr. is a senior and college professor with leadership experience in higher education. He is a professor at Lewis University and holds a Ph.D. in Educational Leadership. He has over 30 years of experience in education and has published numerous articles and books on the topic of leadership in higher education. He has also served as a member of the American Association of Higher Education and has received numerous awards for his work in the field. He has been a guest speaker at many conferences and has written extensively on the topic of leadership. He has a wealth of experience and knowledge in the field of higher education and is well-versed in the latest trends and developments. He is an excellent resource for anyone interested in learning more about leadership in higher education.