CANDIDATES' PLATFORMS

CHAIRMAN

Bill Fox

Why does a person want to run for Chairman of Student Government with it's hard work and difficult decisions to be made? I feel that the students at Baruch deserve a better deal then they've been getting. I believe that Student Government (and especially it's Chairman) should take more active rolls in making Baruch a more livable place (both academically and socially.) I feel I can best represent other students with these same beliefs and aspirations for the betterment of Baruch College.

Lance Druze

I will push for the abolishment of many of our now famous required courses (swimming, etc.).

I will push for the extension of club hours to Tuesdays as well as keeping our already existing Thursdays.

I will look for ways to improve our now existing registration procedures or lessen built in hostilities that our present one brings.

And lastly, I intend to always be open to your suggestions, criticisms, and hopefully your praise.

Harry Gibbs

If we want to have some thing done at Baruch, we have to be united. Otherwise, we can forget it. It is also time that the needs and interests of the students be taken care of. We have to sort priorities and stop wasting our time and energy on futilities and stupid hang-ups. Let's get on with the business which is our common goal here: a better FREE EDUCATION and a BETTER ENVIRONMENT for all of us!!!

Alma Brundage

This is notification of my candidacy in the coming elections for Student Government. My name is Alma Brundage, and I am a junior here at Baruch. The platform that I will defend and represent, in regard to seeking the nomination for Chairperson, consists of a straight forward no nonsense program geared to the student body in general. I believe, through my past personal and academic experiences, that I can accomplish the task of being "Chairperson of the Student Government!"

Allan Fisher

The year is 1973, yet for the students of Baruch College the academic environment is more reminiscent of that which existed in the early 17th century. Our previous representatives have not met the challenges of the 1970's, yet the buck must STOP NOW! The road to progress must be begun. This year a man with a desire for change is running for chairperson.

TICKER ASSOCIATION

Mitch Greenstein

As Treasurer of student government during the past year and a person who has been much involved in the Baruch community, I have come to see the problems that Ticker must deal with in order to exist as a viable means of communication in the college. It has been the only way to involve the 90% of you who are not into the clubs. For a greater closeness in the college to evolve, Ticker must get it together to work for these goals. I think that I can help Ticker association to point itself in the right direction.

Kevin Howard Dubrow

I am the most qualified individual in Baruch to serve on TICKER Association! Much work involving hundreds of hours and experiences allow me to mak the above statement. I have served on TICKER for three years. Reporting and a column were my first jobs and I moved up to Associate Editor for two different editors-in-chief. This semester I am Managing Editor and I was on TICKER ASSOCIATION last year. I have written approximately a hundred stories and many editorials. My word has resulted for changes and progress in the college and on the paper.

REPRESENTATIVES

AT LARGE

Larry Henin

This school was recognized as one of the finest in the country. But the present mentioning of our school evokes laughter particularly among its own students. Its time we students take pride in our school and attempt to regain our previous high status as a major learning institution. The student government can help in this endeavor with the aid of proud Baruchians as myself. Lets put Baruch College and its students back on the map.

Rosie Hodge As a Representative at Large, I hope to help bring about changes in the student government, as it presently stands. Many of the members of the student government do not have any concern for the students in this school and are looking out for their own personal advantages. Because of this, they have neglected to represent the student body and carry out their responsibilities to the student body.

I will do my best to fulfill my duties and responsibilities to the student government, if I am elected.

Carmen Flores

I Carmen Flores believe, that we the students of Baruch have always been misinformed or uninformed about all student matters, we only hear what they want us to hear, we only know what they want us to know. This has got to stop now! today! this semester! All students should know what goes on in the meeting that concerns them, as an individual, as a group. Why should meetings go on representing the students if the students never hear what goes on.

Let's have a great semester, let's keep informed. Representative At Large.

Noe Hernandez

Representing the juniors and the student body in Student Government one of my goals is to follow up on some unfinished work done by last year's senate. Example is the teacher evaluation, results where so much time and money was spent on it and nothing was published. Also I would keep in contact with the student body about issues that concern us the students, example: the security guards in the student senate. So with your support I will be able to inform students about these important issues that affect all students.

Eric Rouda

Student government has for too long served primarily to hear recommended club budgets, automatically reduce them, and eventually approve the remaining skeleton.

I say Baruch needs a Senate dedicated to increasing student awareness on campus and improving the college experience by working for better registration policies, more counseling, a better physical plant, and all other matters which the student body deems important.

Without support and input from the student body, Senate is a useless arm.

David Gitel

My policy is first, to make student senate responsive to the entire student body. To start the ball rolling on some new elective courses, to institute policies such as to assist students at registration. Like, why not use a larger room and a larger staff. And second, to provide fair funding for the clubs and societies. The academic clubs are of particular importance as they round and add spice to an education. They should not be hampered by lack of funds.

Jose A. Gomez

During my years attending Baruch College I have become well informed with the needs of the student body. At this time I'm prepared to represent the student body of Baruch.

I will always be on the side of the students and not betray my fellow colleagues to the administration as others have done. My role will be to represent the student body of Baruch College and make sure that the Student Government is working for the students and not for the administration.

Cesar Arroyo

From my first impressions at Baruch I have noticed many things that need changing and adjusting.

One of the problems many Freshmen first encountered was registration. We were put into the BLOCK PROGRAM which therefore did not allow us to select our own courses and we were given courses which we did not use. Another problem we face is lack of counseling service.

As a Freshman Senator, I will work in unison with the other reps. to make the necessary changes a reality.

Olga Hernandez

An as incoming Freshman, I was confronted with the over crowding at the Student Center and the lacking of counselors for the entering students.

I would like to see the Student Government get involved in evaluating the student counseling services, space allocation for the Student Center and Teacher's Evaluations.

It's about time Student Government gets down to the problems of the students and not their own personal conflicts.

Bob Di Nardo

I have long been disappointed by the lack of cooperation and hostile atmosphere that has existed in student government in recent years. If elected, I will do everything I can to promote a spirit of cooperation among all student representatives. My experience in club and athletic activities has developed my concern for the Baruch community, and will help me efficiently and effectively as a student representative.

Carlos Vila

In my past years as a student, I have experienced the ineffectiveness and insensitivity of Baruch College toward student in such areas as: Administration, faculty, counseling, services, financial aid, etc. As a Junior senator in student government I will do my best toward bringing Baruch to recognize students needs.

Margarita Rodriguez

As a Sophomore Representative I will do my best to bring about new and relevant programs to meet our needs and wants as well as those of the student body as a whole. In the past, Student Government has not met the needs of the Student body because they had no unity. I will work to have a united Student Government that serves the interests of the students in Baruch effectively.

As an incoming freshman to this institution, I have seen things which affect us negatively. Things such as the BLOCK PROGRAM, which deprives us the right of selecting our own programs and gives us unnecessary courses that do not pertain to our majors. It gives us only what the administration thinks is necessary to us, and does not allow us to make choices concerning courses. We also have to take classes that are of no academic value to us, such as Freshman Orientation.

As a senator, I will do whatever is possible to help the freshmen of Baruch to be recognized as equal students. I will do my best to verbalize the voice of my class.

Manuel Romero

Hello Brother Freshmen, call me Manny. I am a cat who is on your side. I am not running for my benefit, I got to attend meetings if elected. I am running for our benefit. I am not going to promise you nothing, but to do my best to work for all of us, blacks whites and Puerto Ricans. We're all brothers. A long list of promises is just Bullshit.

Brothers, now I want you to go out and vote. If not enough people vote there will be no student government and we are the ones to get screwed. Vote and let yourself be heard.

Ester Rodriguez

An incoming Freshman I have experienced negative feeling toward Baruch in terms of orientation programs, classes assigned to us and people who are supposed to help us. These are but few and I'm sure the freshman class as a whole has experienced them to. All this has motivated me to run for student government to do something for the benefit of the present freshman and for future freshman.

SENATOR SENIOR BUSINESS

Kevin Howard Dubrow

Only knowledge, energy and new ideas can make a Student Government work. I have all the qualities above so I can make Council effective for our graduating year establish a trend for the future. Look past the bullshit and into the experience and desire of candidates. I have served in Council Offices, clubs, groups, committees, and the college's paper. Everyday, I use channels in the college to get answers and activate change. I will make time for any project that means something to us and not throw out quick answers!!!

Julia E. Rivera

I feel the Student Government has not been responsible in communicating to students the important events occurring here in Baruch. Student Government for a long time has engaged itself in personality conflicts and has neglected their responsibility towards the general student body. We need to deal with concrete issues that affect our grades and in effect our careers. Issues such as the teacher evaluation evaluations, space, registration, building maintenance, and other issues such as the proposal to have security guards on "campus" are things that must be dealt with intelligently and responsibly so that we can make Baruch a better education facility for all students.

Art Fishman

I ask for your vote so that I may represent the interests of all the students in the senior class, business. I run as a class ally of both those of the oppressed nationalities and the repressed majority of wage slave earners who are the students at Baruch. I will always raise my voice in opposition to indifference and apathy about repression and racism and to try to create in the student government a feeling of solidarity with the international student organizations. I believe this is sufficient reason for seniors to elect me as their representative.

Raymond Becerril

I'm running for candidacy because I'm tired of apathy both student and faculty. If elected I would like to see Baruch unified into a functioning, concern institute of higher learning. Don't be taken in by glory seekers, there are those who are truly concerned, few but nonetheless there, of which I am one.

Juan F. Rivera

Probably the aspirations of every candidate is to provide the school with a mass of turgid ideas, that are more likely than, irrelevant to the needs of the student body. Is it possible for the student government to stay idle in response to the school's answer to better accommodations: 315 PAS, 257 PAS, 360 PAS, 155 E 24, 17 Lex, and at one time the very distant 50th Street building? Are we to continually subject ourselves to petty arguments on what club has cultural, racial, and religious inclinations that are superior to the other? Are function is to try to make the school as liveable as possible in view of its 13th century atmosphere.

ALAN BENDES

I am running for Senior Senator with the intent on making Student Government function more effectively and efficiently in carrying out the desires of the Baruch students, and in appropriating money. Why is the cafeteria closed for renovation when the College had the entire summer to accomplish this goal? Why hasn't a temporary cafeteria been provided for in the student center during renovation? These are a few of the question I will try to have answered, so that similar situations will not reoccur. Furthermore, I will inquire as to whether we can set up a senior class week—end vacation.

Frank Loverro

Please read this, it is important to you! I am not going to attempt to inform you of all the things that I can do for the student body. I will say, however, what I can offer as a person to you. As a senator, I will give 100% of my time and energy. I will vote and conduct myself in a manner which my constituents dictate to me, rather than using my own subjective opinions.

Joseph Gonzalez

Having been in this school for a number of years, I have an understanding of Baruch. I seriously want to do some constructive work in the senate. I understand that I have never been a member of the senate, but I have attended Senate meetings and I understand how it functions and what has to be done for the student body. Hoping to hear your comments and ideas and keep it together.

LIBERAL ARTS

Ollie Oviedo

Baruch Students, as members of the academic community, in addition to their rights as set forth in the "Joint Statement on Rights and Freedoms of Students", should have a very distinctive role of participation in our school's policy. This role would qualify them to share the exercise of responsible authority on and off campus.

I urge you all to change this too old, conservative school. We can be sure that the academic government depends on the concept of shared authority if all Baruchians expect governing to be effective.

Baruchians should have the right to free inquiry and expression in the classroom as well as in conference as stated in the "Joint Statement of Rights and Freedoms of Students". It is not enough for a Baruchian, I believe, to have stake only in the quality of his or her formal education.

JUNIOR BUSINESS

Sol Deutsch

I am running for the office of Junior Senator in the hope of bringing effective change to the Student Senate which has done absolutely nothing for the students

it was supposed to represent!! V+O+T+E+

Denis M. Gallagher

I believe that student government as all government must be responsive to the people from whom it derives its existence. Whether a student involves himself in campus life is irrelevant. Funds collected from student fees should be allocated discreetly, since student needs go beyond that of various clubs and associations.

Larry Spiewak

I am running for Junior Representative (Liberal Arts), because I feel that for too long this constituency has not had a powerful voice representing them. I stand on a platform of a strong Student Government with responsive Junior Class Representatives. To vote is not a right, it's a privilege. Don't throw that privilege away, Vote Spiewak.

Michael Sucher

I am running for the Senate for two major reasons. First of all I detest apathy, especially in myself. When I found myself slipping into the silent student syndrome, I had to break out, and try to accomplish something meaningful. Secondly, I think that a student government can be run more effectively in order to meet the needs of the student population. It is disgraceful that any member of student government be well known as (or she) is running for office in September, and then fade into obscurity for the remainder of the year. If I make only one promise in this campaign it will be to keep you informed of my activities during my tenure in office.

SOPHOMOR BUSINESS

Mark Rohrlach

My reasons for running for the office of Student Senator are: I am interested in being a member of the Student Senate and, in assuming the responsibilities of that office, I wish to act as your representative and voice in student government; my desire to improve conditions at Baruch; and finally, my interest in making our Student Senate a better Student Senate.

Although I didn't hold a position in student government last year, I ran for the Senate and for a position on the Committee on Committees. I am a member of Theatron.

Michael Schiussel

I am running for the office of Senator-Business. My platform is based on equal budget for all. No matter race or creed, I feel that everyone should get an equal share of the budget. Last year the budgets took more than two months to get approved. I feel this is too long, since we all want to get our programs started as soon as possible.

Martin Miller

For an effective senate there must be a spirit of harmony among the senate members. In that way senate can attack problems facing students such as high prices in the bookstore, a hassle with registration, administrative red tape, as a unified body, not one split into special interest groups. In my capacity as a senate member I will try to foster that harmony and act on the behalf of the entire student body.

Caryle Thornhell

There a number of policies implemented at Baruch which are not in the interest of the students. After a year at this college, I have decided that the most effective way of securing the welfare of the student body lies in the offices of the Student Senate.

Patricia Duffy

I am asking you to give me a chance to help rejuvenate Baruch. Everybody has complaints, but do they try to improve the situation? The few students that try to do anything about it rarely succeed because of a lack of support from the rest of the student body. The least that you can do is vote for those who will represent you in the fall and spring semesters. If there is a will, there is a way to improve this school. Working together we can create a new atmosphere that will provide the stimulus for the rediscovery of the true meaning of education in all its aspects.

Richard Rodriguez

As an officer and member of many clubs here at Baruch, I have been my displeasure to watch the Student Government pour thousands of student dollars down the drain; they voted on issues with less than half of the senators present; they delay moving on any issue till the end of each term. Those of you who belong to the various student organizations in this school know all this to be true. Only last term, the budget hearings for the student clubs dragged out most of the term. And this term, it seems the same will happen, unless truly sincere people, who are willing to attend most, if not all of the meetings are elected.

FRESHMAN BUSINESS

Samuel Adams

My name is Samuel Adams and I am a graduate of Julia Richman High School. At richman, I was very active in student politics. Some of the groups I was affiliated with were The Third World Organization and Student Government. I was also a Senior Class Representative. I know what you need! You need a greater awareness, a togetherness, and a certain harmony between yourself and faculty that will make you come alive, creative, and functional while in Baruch College. I will try to bring about this harmony.

Howard I. Cinman

Apathy can kill any school and very few Freshmen are getting involved in Baruch's many organizations. It's important that the Freshmen voices are heard because the profits of our college careers depend on it.

In our "non-profit" book store prices are higher than at some profit earning establishments. I would like to see investigation made to find out where the profits are going.

When elected to the Senate I will work to make Baruch much more than a bunch of cold classrooms.

Alex Acevedo

My name is Alex Acevedo and I'm running for Freshman Representative in the Student Government. Since I've been in Baruch I have experienced friction among students, and also inefficiently classroom setups and administration.

Most of us Freshmen and other classmates know what I'm referring to. My convictions are very strong when it comes to our school. That is, I will try within my effective way of correcting most of the injustices that the students are placed in with no fault of their own. Vote for me and you create new changes which are meaningful, significant, and of value, for the purpose you came here. Vote for your concerned Freshman.

LIBERAL ARTS

Robert C. Clarke

The threat of an issue to renew tuition to full time students attending CUNY is now closer than ever. The need for more money is very real. The CUNY student body is ever increasing, thereby creating endless new monetary demands such as buildings for classroom space, educational equipment, and additional qualified instructors. We must plan our school budget carefully or consider the eventual alternative.
