

Jonathan Glover is presently the Richard M. Cyert Professor of Management and Economics, as well as Professor of Accounting, at The Tepper School of Business, Carnegie Mellon University, in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Professor Glover's teaching and research interests include financial and managerial accounting, corporate financial reporting, management control, incentives, mechanism design, and microeconomic theory.

He is a recognized expert on accounting, information economics, and strategy. His work has been published in The Accounting Review; Journal of Accounting Research; Accounting Horizons; Management Science; the Journal of Accounting, Auditing and Finance, and several other eminent journals.

Dr. Glover also has served as academic fellow to the Office of the Chief Accountant at the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). He received his B.S.B.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Ohio State University.