Jūštjñ Mōrēt Damn the world may be rubble tomorrow from all the sub bass waves colliding.

P.s. Could you drop where is my instrumental on October 29th in Austin, TX. It would fulfill my life.

Cody O'Brien Red Step is my favorite so far. The sub in my car wobbles like nothing i've ever heard with the change in low frequencies and then the song kicks off with unapologetic bass and that upbeat synth groove.

Jonathan Leffler Another phase into the ongoing pursuit towards perfection. Lorin's ability to capture the balance between the grinding edge of electronic innovation and holding onto the core roots of his amorphous musical journey is unmatched in both creativity and pure passion for what he believes in.
