Cusha

Edgar Nkosi White
In Montserrat where not even the Cusha free
I saw a man and I watched him cry
He had to sell his donkey just to buy an eye.
You tell me why
Tell me why?

(The Cusha is a plant with prickle stems. It came to Montserrat by way of the British who came up with the brilliant idea of importing camels. Then they found us: slaves, and discovered that we were much cheaper than camels. The plant stayed and is everywhere on the island. Alliogana means land of the prickly plant)
