College Backs A. A. U. Head
In Olympic Boycott Fight; Anti-War Mobilization Nov. 8

By Artie Hauer
Finishing a strong, well-organized season attack, the City College Beavers trounced the gridmen of Lowell Textile, 19 to 0, in the last home stand of the season on Thursday. Being Frank Schimney, hard-driving, line-plunging fullback for the Beavers, the back, the Beavers gained 205 yards rushing, while holding the opposition to 80 yards in one way. Schimney displayed some brilliant line plunging throughout the game, and was responsible for two of the City touchdowns.

The Beaver line which has been responsible for the attack, stood up solidly in last week's embroil. They never let the Lowell Textile backs get started and so the Beavers were forced to resort to a passing attack which they attempted no less than 22 times. Lou Atanasia, speedy Textile quarterback, who was又是 a squall against the Courand last year, again was the outstanding chasing power of the people, like passes, thrown with mar

Peace Mobilization

The face of a crisis which threatens the stability of the world is the present British situation. With the formation of the Nazi state, Germany has become an ally of the Axis powers, and the situation has worsened. The United States, previously neutral, is now being called upon to take a stand. This is not the first time that the United States has been faced with a crisis of this magnitude. In 1914, the United States entered World War I, and in 1939, it declared war on Germany. The current situation is similar, but the stakes are higher. The United States must decide whether to remain neutral or take a more active role in the war.

Both as a student and as a member of the community, I believe that the United States should take a strong stance in support of the Allies. This stance should be reflected in our actions and policies. We must support our allies both materially and morally. This means providing them with the necessary resources and also standing with them in their defense.

The Student Union has been active in mobilizing support for the Allies. They have organized protests and rallies, and they have circulated petitions and letters to elected officials. The Student Union is a powerful force, and its actions can make a real difference in the outcome of the war.

The Student Union has also been active in promoting the idea of a world without war. They have organized peace rallies and marches, and they have circulated petitions and letters to elected officials. The Student Union is a powerful force, and its actions can make a real difference in the outcome of the war.
