Meeting Notes

- Chairperson President Evenbeck welcomed attendees and gave opening remarks. Dave Fields served as the meeting parliamentarian.
- Eight NCC students were selected to participate in Mobilize.org’s Mobilizer Academy as part of an inaugural class of 20 students. The first meeting will be held in New York February 8-10.
- Two students volunteered for hurricane relief support in the Rockaways on MLK Day (January 21) as part of a program with New York Cares.
- We received the official letter of accreditation from the New York State Board of Regents. Paperwork was submitted to the Federal Government for the college to provide Title IV programs. New York State TAP funds will follow after Title IV approval.
- We are firming up membership on a special Personnel Committee and then can proceed to allocate funds to the NCC Student Government Association for student activities.
- In coordination with Jay Hershenson’s office, Scott Evenbeck and Larian Angelo will visit Albany in February to meet members of the General Assembly to advocate for a new building.
- Plans for renovating the two science labs and installing the Atrium’s window are moving along. We will push for an early start date to the work. Part of the building scaffolding has now been removed.
- Bruce Lyons will develop a communications plan for the college to determine which information is appropriate for the web site, the student portal, internal communications, and digital signage.
- The Governor’s new fiscal budget for community colleges is flat although there is a small performance-based allocation for colleges providing adult career development programs.
- The Agenda for the January 23, 2013, meeting was approved.
- Minutes from the December 18, 2012, meeting was approved.
- There were no referral matters for approval from the Curriculum & Academic Support Committee or the Assessment & Professional Development Committee.
