In submitting this their Ninth Annual Report, the Faculty take pleasure in saying that the Academy was never in a more prosperous condition than at the present time. The discipline is well sustained. The students are orderly, earnest, and successful in their studies, and regular in their attendance upon their prescribed exercises. The Teachers and Officers are assiduously devoted to their duties; and the Academy is gaining more and more the respect and confidence of the community. All that remains is for those connected with its immediate control, and its more general and public supervision, to continue faithful and devoted to it, to make it one of the leading educational institutions in our country.

Horace Webster,
President of the Faculty.

G. B. Docharty,
Secretary of the Faculty.
