Whitehead Hall Open; Slated For Heavy Use

By ELLEN LEVINE

Students, both SGS and CLAS, will soon become familiar with Alfred North Whitehead Hall, the new social science building which opened this past June, for it houses the Departments of Economics, Philosophy, Political Science and Sociology-Anthropology.

The new building, which adds 100,000 square feet of floor space to the college facilities, contains 40 classrooms, 21 staffrooms, four department offices, television laboratories, a cafeteria, as well as sculpture, wood working and metal working shops of the Art Department, plus the Television Division of the Speech Department.

Whitehead Hall was designed by the firm of Chapman, Evans & Delahanty. Ground was broken in the spring of 1961, but construction was delayed for 58 days by a concrete workers' strike. The steel in the building is designed to support two additional floors.

The cost per square foot of

(Continued on page two)