F. S. CROFTS & CO., Publishers
FORTY-ONE UNION SQUARE, WEST & NEW YORK

January 18th

LABOR AND THE NEW DEAL
by
Emanuel Stein, Carl Rauschenbusch, Lois MacDonald
of New York University

Following the outstanding success of THE NATIONAL RECOVERY PROGRAM (by Magee, Atkins, and Stein), which surveyed the entire recovery movement, we are publishing on January 18th a second and similar booklet entitled: LABOR AND THE NEW DEAL — for courses in elementary economics — labor — government regulation — current problems, etc.

In 96 pages the authors analyze the labor provisions of the NRA — hours, wages, child labor, unions, bargaining, strikes, code authorities, National Labor Board, etc. — and trace developments under them since June, 1933. They review the legislative acts which are the forerunners of the labor phases of this Program, and the role of the judiciary in helping to make the law. They reproduce the leading labor law cases of the last two decades as materials for understanding the past and present attitudes of governmental agencies toward those labor problems which are stressed by the Roosevelt regime. The last chapter considers the alternatives that face the country: Will the NRA be scrapped? — be declared unconstitutional? Are we headed for state socialism? — for fascism?

Whether you are teaching elementary or more advanced courses in economics, we believe you will find LABOR AND THE NEW DEAL indispensable for giving your students essential and timely information on the present status of labor and the immediate problems of the next few months.

January 18th — 96 pages — 50 cents

See TABLE OF CONTENTS on next page. If you wish to consider text adoption write us now for an examination copy. If you wish to purchase it for your personal library, please enter your request on the order side of the enclosed card. We shall have ample stock for immediate shipment of class orders on publication date.

F. S. CROFTS & CO.

F. S. CROFTS & CO., Publishers
FORTY-ONE UNION SQUARE, WEST & NEW YORK

LABOR AND THE NEW DEAL
by
Stein, Rauschenbusch, and MacDonald

Table of Contents

Chapter

1. Labor's Status under the NRA
   The Recovery Program
   Labor's Position in March, 1933
   Labor Provisions of the Act; Protective Clauses
   Collective Bargaining; Company Unions
   Strikes; The National Labor Board

2. The Functions of the Judiciary and its Supremacy
   The Making of Common Law, Statutes, and Constitutions
   Influences on the Courts as law-makers

3. Protective Labor Legislation
   Hours of Labor: Huffman v. Oregon
   Minimum Wage: Adkins v. California's Hospital
   Child Labor: Kerner v. Pennsylvania

4. Collective Bargaining
   Power Agreements
   Coppen v. Kansas
   Mitchell Coal and Coke Company v. Mitchell
   La Franca Company v. Electrical Workers
   Bedford Cut Stone Company v. Journeymenstonemasons
   Strikes and Conferences: Murphy v. Kansas
   The Railroads: Texas and New Orleans Railway v. Railway Clerks

5. The Alternatives
   January 18th — 96 pages — 50 cents

THE NATIONAL RECOVERY PROGRAM
(Magee, Atkins, Stein)

Essential laws, codes, reports, covering the N.R.A., agriculture, and banking. 240 adoptions. 50 pages 40 cents

1934 revision of
APPLIED ECONOMICS
(Dye & Hewett)

Essential laws, codes, reports, covering the N.R.A., agriculture, and banking. 240 adoptions. 50 pages 40 cents

A thorough, up-to-date text on general economic problems, including the N.R.A. New and revised. 602 pages $3.75

F. S. CROFTS & CO.
New York