Masks plan annual homecoming

For the Intelligence

A world crowd from across the globe will gather for a new traditional event this year at Scheve Park. The annual World University Rankings report, which will be held in the center of town and then turns half mile away with end-stage closing, my Grandma Ruth was ing on Sunday night. The young moving internationally for college. Between 2005 and 2015, the number of students in the country who are going internationally for college between the ages of 20 and 30 is the largest since the beginning of the 20th century. This trend is expected to continue as more students look beyond the borders of their home countries for educational opportunities.

The annual event will be held on Saturday and Sunday! It will begin at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, August 5, and end at 8 p.m. on Sunday, August 7. The event will feature live music and entertainment, as well as a variety of food and beverage options. It is open to the public and is free to attend. Don’t miss this exciting opportunity to celebrate the diversity of our community and the world around us.

WILDEY

With the end of the grant money, “we are now only able to support the top up-and-coming blues singers and bands,” said Canal.

The next performance is at 8 p.m., Saturday, August 5, featuring Dr. Aldemaro Romero Jr. and his band. “He is a truly one-of-a-kind musician who is well known for his unique style of playing the blues,” said Canal. “We’re excited to have him on our stage.”

The final show of the series is at 8 p.m., Saturday, August 12, featuring the band Punchy. “Punchy is a local favorite and is known for their high-energy performances,” said Canal. “This is a great opportunity to see some of the best blues and roots music in the area.”

FAIR

“Out of our art artists absolutely adores the volunteers. They bring food, collect and assist with set-up and take-down, and even clean after the event. They really make it happen,” said Jenny. “Our artists can take a break. These downtown sidewalks outside can be exhausting, so it’s great to have a place to go back and rest for a bit.”

Our artists always enjoy the outdoor setting of the fair. “It’s always a new experience for them, and they truly appreciate the opportunity to exhibit their work to so many people,” said Jenny.

Our volunteers positions available. “Friday morning volunteers are especially needed, because artists need lots of help setting up,” said Jenny. “We need artists to help from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., to set up and break down. We also need volunteers at 3 p.m. to 8 p.m., to help with the different stages during the day.”
