New Branch Of College Inaugurated

By Jerry Scheenholts
Training qualified citizens for statewide government—this is the function of The Division of Public Service Training, the newly inaugurated branch of the College of the City of New York, which begins operations this month.

An independent unit of the College subject to the jurisdiction of the Board of Higher Education and the acting president of the public service institute will be headed by Dr. Robert Jahrling, formerly of the Education department.

Mayor Fiorello La Guardia will take part in an assembly today in connection with the opening of the Diision. Present over by Acting-President Nelson P. Mead, the gathering will be held in the Faculty Lounge this morning and will be attended by the students in the course and by invited guests.

Also expected are Ortord Teasdale, dean of the School of Education, John J. McLellington, Fire Commissioner, Police Commissioner Lewis M. Hay, and Paul Rehert, Civil Service Commissioner.

Housed in the Commerce Cen­ ter, the course will offer both morning and afternoon classes to specially qualified students.

A full two year curriculum of preparation for careers in the Police and Fire Departments will be offered in addition to advanced courses for employees of the Department of Welfare, and the Bureau of Correction.

Applicants for admission to the course for prospective policemen and firemen must be high school graduates between the ages of 18 and 20. (Continued on Page Four)

Committees Pick President, Dean

Committees to select permanent appointees for the presidency of the college and the deanship of the School of Business have been set up by the Board of Higher Education, The Ticker learned Friday.

Members of the committee to choose a new City College president are Ortord Teasdale, chairman of the BHE, Charles Tuttle, and Dr. Joseph Klein, board member and president of the BHE, Charles Tuttle.

HP Elections October 2, 3

In balloting to take place today and tomorrow, members of the House Plan, will elect officers for the current term.

Participation by the entire membership in the selection of officers is a new procedure. In previous years, officers were chosen by a committee composed of members elected from each house.

An attempt to involve more members in House Plan activity and to direct "direct democracy" was the major consideration in the installation of the system. The change was made to provide a greater opportunity for students to participate in the selection of officers.

Applications for admission to the course for prospective policemen and firemen must be high school graduates between the ages of 18 and 20. (Continued on Page Four)

Petitions are scheduled for Tuesday, October 10.

HP Sponsors Hillbilly Affair Saturday Night In Gym

Since it is a college custom to begin the social season with a bang, Maxwell Weinbrenner and his House Planners spent their afternoons last week inventing, experimenting, and striving to hatch a "different" and "sensational" social novelty. Come the brainstorms and a Hillbilly Mardi Gras was decided for this Saturday, October 10.

It is learned that at this time of the year mountaineers descend the known world to don their costumes. At the Hillbilly Mardi Gras, the gym will be converted into a Hillbilly theme while dancing, the gymnasium, and contests familiar to the yokels will be held at the gymnasium.

Rustic activities programmed for the night are "Going to Jerusalem," "The Penny Dance," and "The Square Dance." Joiners are advised to bring pets, because anyone caught stealing a candy or fruit decoration, will be "jailed" by one of the "swarm of grayhounds." It will be easy to catch one since you can sign up for a nickel if you get married.

A friend calling contest will be included, and prizes will be awarded to the funniest pet-name, as a Hillbilly of the week. Haymakers, fiddles, yodelers and corn-silkers will compete in the competition with "The Square Dance."

Tickets are 25 cents each. Stanley K. Wojciechowski, resident ticket seller, is on duty at the door. No couple will be admitted without a bag of contraband or streamers.

Bert Witt Speaks At ASU Rally

"No Blackout Of Peace In America!"

Using this slogan as the rallying point around which it plans to organize students in a drive to keep America out of war, the Student Council has scheduled a mass meeting for Thursday noon in the auditorium.

The Ticker, executive secretary of the New York district of the ASU, who has just returned from a tour of Europe, will analyze the European situation and present the ASU's foreign policy program.

A question period will follow.

A dramatic presentation of the ASU program in "Living Newspaper" style will be given by a student cast.

The Political Actions Committee will meet today in room 501. The New York City Councilmanic elections will be the subject of discussion.

The Peace Commission meets Wednesday at 4 p.m. in room 502. Mobilization plans for the Thursday mass meeting is the main point on the agenda.

Last Wednesday, Tuesday Cooper, ASU president, announced that the organization's National Executive Committee had decided to favor the neutrality act to include cash and carry provisions.

Immediately after this, Bernard Cantor, a member of the Youth Committee Against War, attacked the ASU stand and programm its ultimate breakdown because of its frequent shifts on the peace issue.

of the United States, and residents of New York State. They must meet the physical requirements fixed by the Municipal Civil Service Commission for entrance to the Police and Fire Departments and must secure character recommendations from the principal of the secondary school from which they were graduated.

Those who meet the above requirements may be admitted to the entrance examinations, which will consist of tests of intelligence, scholarship, aptitudes, physical fitness, and an evaluation of the high school record.

These courses are available at $2.00 a credit. As each student will be required to follow a prescribed curricular plan, the following limits per semester will be $42.00. First, to cooperate with representatives of the Civil Service Commission and the Police and Fire Departments, the courses are intended to enhance the student's cultural experience and to provide basic technical knowledge necessary to the Civil Service.

During the first year, both groups will pursue studies in English, Mathematics, Science, Social Studies, and Hygiene. In the second year, prospective policemen will take courses in Policing and Administration, Criminal Investigation, and observation of Police Work while the prospective firefighters will include the Advanced Chemistry, Applied Engineering and Observation of Fire Departments.

Either of these courses will result in the granting of a Certificate of Civic Admissibility. Further, to transfer a limited number of credits upon desire to an advanced degree in the College.

The courses are open to persons already employed and are not to include the Distance and Correspondence courses provided in the School of Business.

A tentative program for the School of Business will be held at the Hotel Ambassador, Saturday, December 9, at the hotel's Italian Gardens and Embassy Rooms, announced Herbert Weinberger, co-chairman.

The fee for both sessions per couple will include a turkey dinner and a full evening of entertainment.

An easy payment system of one dollar a week may be arranged with the following committee chairman: Mrs. Tyrus, Joe Ehrenreich, Leo Fine, and Herbert Weinberger.

Although the band has not been definitely selected, the orchestra of Bill McCune, Ednina High, Gray Gordon, Phil Sands, and Jack Jenney are being considered.

T-Man at Law Society

Counterfeiting and its detection will be discussed by John Di Cerbo, agent in the Secret Service Division of the U.S. Treasury Department, at the Law Society, Thursday in room 923.

In announcing the program the Law Society explained that New York City students are being trained in government and hoped that it would co-operate with the faculty whenever possible.
