SC. Alumni Favor Faculty Member For The School Of Business Deanship

Couch On Business Year At Acctg. Soc.

Charles B. Couch, a member of Barrow, Wade, and Co. and former chairman of the Committee on the Natural and Business Year, will present the findings and suggestions of his committee before the Accounting Society Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in room 1520.

Herman Herwood, of the New York Times, will speak on the changes in Credit Affecting Public Accounting, created lively discussion by his criticism of the accepted standard of auditor's certificate with particular emphasis on the manufacturing concerns.

The Accounting Forum, official publication of the Accounting Society, is the third largest accounting magazine in the country, appearing each month in November, February, and May. Featured in the winter issue will be the answers to the recent CPA examinations and the findings and suggestions of Mr. Herwood.
New Role of Education Stressed by Dr. Gideonse

Dr. George Gideonse, President of Hofstra College, this week appeared at city College in the role of a visiting professor.

"The future of education," he said, "is not in the past. It is now. We must change our concepts of what education means." He added, "The individual must be prepared for a democratic society."

Club Clips

CAMERA CLUB: "Photography is a very old art," said Mr. Kingsley, "but it is only in recent years that it has become a serious subject. We are very fortunate to have Mr. Kingsley and Mr. Gideonse as our teachers."

Club Secretary: "I am very grateful to Mr. Kingsley and Mr. Gideonse for their help."

UNIVERSITY AND WORKERS' UNION: "Our organization has always been very active," said Mr. Johnson, "and we are going to continue to be so."

UNIVERSITY AND WORKERS' UNION: "We are going to continue to be so."

Theory in Practice

1. "In business, we need to have a good work ethic," said Mr. Johnson, "but we also need to have a good attitude."

2. "In education, we need to have a good work ethic," said Mr. Kingsley, "but we also need to have a good attitude."

3. "In business, we need to have a good work ethic," said Mr. Gideonse, "but we also need to have a good attitude."

Letter to The Ticket

"Dear Sir,"

"I am very disappointed with the way The Ticket has been handling the politics on campus."

"I think The Ticket should be more neutral in its reporting."

"Sincerely,"

Junior Varsity Looks Good; Defeat Hofstra J.V., 15-7

"By Murray Cohen"

The Hofstra Junior Varsity football team defeated the City College Junior Varsity team, 15-7, in a game played at the City College football field. The game was attended by a crowd of over 2,000 spectators.

"The game was very close," said Mr. Cohen, "and it was a great game to watch."

"The Junior Varsity team played very well," said Mr. Cohen, "and they deserve a lot of credit for their performance."
Boas Likens History to Billiard Rack

"History is like the breaking up of a rack of billiard balls, in which every ball acts on another of the flock," Dr. Charles W. H. Boas, Tuesday, during his speech in 462 on "The Problems of History." This was the theme of a series of lectures recently instituted by the City College. After explaining the uselessness to the City administration and the Community, Dr. Boas, head of the Philosophy Department, Queens College, explained that two schools may combine to form a unified body in the interpretation of history.

One school of thought illustrated by the rack of billiard balls he stated, holds that happenings in one country exert influence upon events taking place in all parts of the world. Opposed to this school is the group which feels that history ebb and flow; that history is in full tide in one country but frozen in another.
