\textbf{Admitted to the Freshman Class, July, 1861.}

Adams, Livingston Griffin, Benjamin
Sampson, Francis Asbury.

In submitting this their Tenth Annual Report, the Faculty take pleasure in saying that the Academy continues in a highly prosperous condition. The discipline is good. The students, whose number is larger than at any previous time, are orderly, earnest, and successful in their studies, and regular in their attendance upon the prescribed exercises. The Teachers and Officers are assiduously devoted to their duties; and the Academy is gaining more and more the respect and confidence of the community. All that remains is for those connected with its immediate control, and its more general and public supervision, to continue faithful and devoted to it, to make it one of the leading educational institutions of our country.

HORACE WEBSTER,
President of the Faculty.

G. B. DOCHARTY,
Secretary of the Faculty.
