By Sam Engler

Father Charles E. Coughlin struck out his Red-hot poker through his Social Justice and brainwashed into the walks of the day. With the help of a basketball gym, a Great Hall rally and a drum drive in clubs and classes, a total of 1500 subscribes, was small below the goal, and the paper made up the difference.

Pulitizer Prize Winning Play

By Ralph Cohen

Confident that this term’s varied program will be its most notable triumph, in the five years it has been the drama benefactor, Theatron will set a new record on “Our Town,” Friday, December 1, in the Pauline Edwards Theater. The polished presentation Friday and Saturday will mark the culmination of a month of intense preparation. The evening will feature Mrs. Percy Bassett, president of the acting group, and a dramatic reading from the play, which won last season’s Pulitzer Prize. Because of the drama’s delicate character, an out-of-town preview was held.

Optional Dress Regardless of the Junior Prom

An optional Junior Prom, to be held Friday, December 15, in the Blue Room of the Hotel Lincoln, to the music of the Hotel Lincoln, was finally decided upon by the prom committee of 1941. This reversed the previous decision of a formal affair at the Hotel Pennsylvania. The change has enabled the committee to reduce the price of tickets from $6 to $5.25 a couple.

The original decision of the committee was rescinded because of the change of leadership of the band at the Hotel Pennsylvania. Arnie Shaw, who became leader when the band forced to leave the city, was the main-inducer of the change. Pennsylvania. But the student bodies, students were no longer prepared to pay the $5.25 a couple.

As much as a revision of program was necessitated, the Council reconsidered the type of prom to be held. cause a faction of students were on record in favor of an informal affair. The final decision was reached upon by the prom committee of 1941.

Included in the price of tickets are a dinner, tips, and a set of the finest bands of the day.

Tickets will be placed on sale at the Junior Prom, which will be held Saturday, December 15, and will extend to 4 p.m. The members of the Prom Committee will be the trump event of the Junior Prom.

Coughlin Hits CCNY, CTU

In the main, the Social Justice attacked the activities of the College of City College of New York as a "group of Jewish Red," led by Arnold Scholtoff, secretary and an "obnoxious little instructor" in City College. Father Coughlin claimed a connection between the TU and Earl Browning, general secretary of the Communist Party.
When asked for a statement, Mr. Browning advised that an answer would be given but was not available to the New York colleges and the College Teachers' Union as Red if it did not come at a time when academic freedom is new restrictive educational budgets are being increasingly assailed and the Dies Committee is planning to do its bit for colleges and schools.

The article is characteristic of the activities of groups that are attempting to undermine American ideals. It is an attack on racial and social justice, assailing bond issues, and attacking educational opportunity.

Survey Reveals Co-op Prices Low

Co-op Co-op College Store's mark-up on merchandise is 7.94 per cent less than that of the average of 72 college bookstores. This was revealed in "Operating Results of College Book Stores," a pamphlet recently published by the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Illinois.

Although sales at the College are about double the average, the figures show, the closing inventory is approximately the same as the average store. Operating expenses are 5.94 per cent lower and operating profits are 1.25 per cent less than the college stores surveyed.

An analysis of the facts indicates that the savings available to the College are attributed to the quality of business; the low mark-up; efficiency of operation.

In addition, the store's management systems, further savings, and less distortion from changes in store's prices per cent each terms are "ploughed back" in the form of reduced prices during following terms.

Personal Guidance System May Be Chapel Substitute

The substitution of a personal guidance system to replace Fresh Chapel, as a means for freshman orientation into City College, is being considered by the Bureau of Business Research.

The system, which has been in operation, would involve the student's president to enroll his name from a list of those who have been enrolled in Fresh Chapel. The personal guidance system would be presented to Acting Dean Mayer.

DIES FOUND GUILTY AT ASU HEARING

Representative Martin Dies, in absentia, went on trial as the head of an un-American committee before the ASU membership meeting Wednesday at 9 p.m. in room 804.

In the role of prosecuting attorney, Leon Gril accused Mr. Dies of attempting to undermine democratic procedure, charging that his committee has impaired the safety of gagged labor spies and known anti-Semites.

The witness, impersonated by Mr. Friedman, freely answered the questions propounded by those whom he had investigated, adding that he was unable to recall questions on the excuse that he didn't remember.

By way of introduction, the committee's, composed of the active membership, found Dies guilty, and recommended the disbanning of his committee.
