Above is a picture of some of the students who have enlisted for work on farms this summer. One is going with the Volunteer Land Corps, one with International Student Service to its Milford Work Camp and the rest to jobs in the Hudson Valley for which the U.S. Employment Service has been recruiting. Over 100 of the students whose names appear below were informed this week of the living arrangements which the farmers are providing. Most of the workers will live in cooperative houses and cook their own meals, sharing expenses. They will receive the prevailing rate of wages for their work. The first group which leaves on Tuesday will be transported in buses sent down by the farmers. Investigations of job opportunities and of the best possible living arrangements for students have been made by members of the Employment Committee and the Placement Associate in the Personnel Bureau. Norman Teitel, working as Student Council's representative, has interviewed students each day and helped to discourage any one who thought this kind of work would be easy. Those who go will have an interesting and worthwhile experience and be able to make some money for themselves while rendering important war service.
