College To Celebrate Charter Day

In celebration of the ninety-second anniversary of City College and the twentieth year of the special Charter Day Assembly, a major event has been scheduled for Thursday afternoon in the auditorium. Dean Justin H. Moore will preside over the ceremonies.

Mr. Walter Johnson, a former classmate of Dean Moore and a member of the English Department at the Witten Clinic High School, will play several organ selections.

The immediate concern to business students, general employment opportunities will be discussed by Mr. J. G. Le Ver, in a talk on "Youth and the World of Tomorrow."

The exercises will feature the induction of new members into the honorary societies of the School of Business, and the presentation of Student Council, professional awards, and the Alpha, Junior Honorary Society, will formally admit into its membership Mildred Baker, Terence Cooper, Francis Ketelis, Alice Lapidas, Georgia Murphy, Edith Saunders, and Millicent Weil.

Applications for the Student Council will be suspended at all meetings, including those of the Charter Day exercises.

Macaulay of Fordham Addresses Newman Club

"Interesting-experiences lead to the development and improvement of an individual's personality," declared Mr. Harold J. Macaulay, professor at Fordham University, before the Newman Society Thursday, following the dinner meeting. President Pat Maragello announced that the Newman Club's election for the new year will be postponed for one week.

Baldwin Writes For "Bar" On Civil Liberties

With a copyrighted article entitled "How Shall We Save Our Liberties?" by Roger Baldwin, director of the American Civil Liberties Union, the first printed edition of "The Bar" goes on sale today. In his article, Mr. Baldwin answers charges that he is ever in the saddle in a meeting of the German-American Bund at Madison Square Garden recently.

Another important feature is the questions and complete answers to the C. P. A. Law Examination given April 27.

State Cuts Budget; Summer Session On

By Jerry Schoenbein

Passage of the drastically cut budgets by the State Legislature last week, raised the question of action in the City College before they had recovered from the Board of Education's action in parting the City Budget.

Although the usual state allotment to the City Colleges is very small, the colleges will still be strongly affected indirectly. A cut of $90,000 for Townsend-Harris and an additional amount for Center College High School was made in the state budget. This, if approved by the Board of Education, would entail a transfer of funds from the already-cut allotment of the municipal colleges.

Summer session will continue this summer, Nelson P. Mead, acting president of the College, told The Hicker last week. This comes close to the Board of Higher Education indication that it was only because of student pressure, which was not expected to last for the summer session and student pressure forced the decision to continue the summer session.

Mr. Orndorff Tread, chairman of the BHE, referred to additional summer session and student pressure as the "full summer session and student pressure"

Facility to Act On Summer Reading

Abolition of the senior reading examination will be recommended by the Faculty Curriculum Committee at the next faculty meeting.

Determination of the proposed abolition plan by the committee eliminates three years of agitation on the part of student and faculty groups which had maintained that the test was outdated and unfair.

Proponents of the examination expected a strong fight for its retention at the meeting. Should the faculty approve the committee's recommendation, Acting President Nelson P. Mead would be called upon to decide whether such action was final or was dependent on the approval of the Board of Higher Education.

Beavers Drop Wild Game To LIU, 12-2

By Eugene Boyd

Instead of four and twenty Blackbirds, there were but nine, but still as a 12-2 tune at the expense of the Beaver baseballers last Saturday at Lewiston Stadium. The Brooklyn boys fed off on Sam Winograd's boys, scoring six runs against Arky Soltys in three innings; two runs against Paul Gradano in four innings; and four markers against Pat Breslin in two frames.

Tony Caruso, L. I. U. hurler pitched flawless ball. Errors in the field mixed with bases on balls, and one hit, a slugging single by Meister, gained the upper hand. Meister gave but four hits, Soupsour, two-baser, a double by Pat Breslin and a triple by J. Levy. Meister hitless ball until the fifth when Pat Breslin opened the inning with his single.

The Blackbird attack was marked by two base hits, the third and the ninth. In the third, L. I. U. smashed the offerings of Arky Soltes, but apparently not did not have his usual stuff, and this allowed him to stymie the Blackbirds for that inning. In the ninth, the Blackbird attack was once again stymied.

The extreme heat seemed to have taken its toll of the players. In addition, the Brooklyn boys were handicapped by the absence of certain talents and abilities that are of definite commercial value, the graduates "back on mouth a little month" unable to obtain the positions for which they have been prepared. The Bureau attributes the failure to the students' inability to make the right contacts. Furthermore, graduates say that they are further handicapped by the stigma attached to City College graduates.

The brochure will be six or eight pages depending upon the number of subscribing students. Each student may have his or her photograph accompanying a short biographical sketch, included in the booklet for the sum of fifty cents each, which will cover printing and mailing expenses.

Applications for the brochure may be submitted any day before Friday between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. in room 314. They should contain the following information: specialization, honors, thesis topic, extracurricular activities, past pageant participation, and any of job preferred.

CCNY To Play Show And All Star Game Boatride Day, To Aid Refugee Students 21 Of May

Ahoy, aye, and Heigh-yo Ter yer, aye-ah! One "Bele" and all is well. Yes, it's the S. S. Belle Island which will dock at the Roentgen Park on Sunday, May 21. For that matter, every College Commerce man should come out for this all-day holiday for homecoming lunches. The boat leaves the Battery landing at 9:30 a.m. and returns at 11:30 a.m. Incidentally, the more you go for an old-fashioned picnic, with the girls bringing the hot lunches, is steadily gaining ground. Last time we heard of it, the male portion for lunches was circulating on the lunchroom floor.

Mel Kellar's crew of ten will musically help all landlubbers to get their sea legs. At the picnic grounds, rest assured of hearty, the budget and book balancing games and activities. There will be a Jolly Boating Ball. The Junior honorary society, room 1302, will be held Friday evening at 8 p.m. The Junior honorary society, room 1302.

Students Vote On Obligatory U-Book

To determine student sentiment on the proposed compulsory student activity fund, a poll will be conducted as follows.

The ballot on the lower right hand side of page 1 should be filled out and placed in the ballot box on the lobby.

According to the U-Book Committee, a compulsory U-Book would permit expansion of student activities and the introduction of many other activities at present curtailed because of lack of funds. It would also include the addition of many activities which are not possible under the present system.

In conjunction with the Inter-College Student Board, the Student Trustee is sponsoring a country fair and dance to be held at Brooklyn College, Bedford Avenue and Avenue B Saturday.

Tickets, at $3.50 per couple, may be purchased from the U-Book committee or from the蛇ay and Stanley K. Wozowtisz.
