School of Business and Civic Administration of The City College of New York

Thursday, February 8, 1941

Professor Frank K. Shuttleworth, of the City College Personnel Bureau, has been named Adviser of Personnel to the Office of the School of Business and Civic Administration, Dean Feldman announced yesterday.

Associated with the College's Personnel Bureau since 1939, Dr. Shuttleworth has been assigned to the School of Business and Civic Administration, students the guidance facility formerly available only to students interested in extra-curricular activities.

Dr. Shuttleworth was gradu­ated from the Iowa State University in 1921 and received his Ph.D. degree there in 1925. He then joined the faculty at the University as Assistant Professor of History. Education, but left in 1928 to serve as a fellow in the Institute of Human Relations. He was appointed to the Education Department at the College, where he served until two years ago, when he came to City College as Personnel Advisor.

He is the author of numerous books on sociology, educational research, vocational guidance.

This is what happened:

Two and one-half years ago, just before Dr. Mead replaced Dr. Robinson as head of the College, he was very happy as a history teacher.

He could study history, clip the New York Times, read the New York Times, and make notes and prophecies which he delivered to his class and discuss with his classes.

Dr. Mead then became president and immediately fell heir to the numerous administrative problems, the endless details, the nightly public dinners, the budget making and the budget cutting, the teachers’ union, and one detail necessary to the existence of the largest colleges in the country.

And then the world went crazy.

"Events," as Dr. Mead put it, "started happening which today would make the French Revolution appear a mere flash in the pan. The existence of the world was changing."

With all this going-on, Dr. Mead, who wanted an all-business turban, to be reading, mak
Dean Feldman, Chapel Adviser Extend Welcome To Class Of 1945

To the Incoming Class

Dear Student,

I am glad to welcome and extend my warmest greetings to each of you who are coming to the School this year. I am sure that you are all very glad to have the opportunity to enter the College.

To those who are already familiar with us, I express my pleasure and gratitude for having the opportunity to meet you here. I extend my best wishes to each of you who have been with us before.

I am sure that you will find the College an attractive and stimulating place. I hope that you will be as happy as I am to be here.

Yours truly,
Dean Feldman

Building Changes Will Increase Facilities

In order to augment social facilities at the School of Business, several alterations are now being made in the building under the direction of Dean Herman Feldman.

The ultimate goal is to centralize all student activities on the main floor. The way is being prepared for the removal of the Townsend Harris offices from their present place to rooms near the elevator. Mrs. Wright's office will be moved into the room formerly used by the Gift's Lounge which in turn, will be returned to its original site.

Room 35 formerly the social lounge is being renovated so that it may be made into two-classroom.

The library has been enlarged by the addition of two rooms, but which were vacated by the creation of a dozen new rooms in the basement.

'45 Orientation Starts Today

Professor Dungan is scheduled to conduct a Public Speaking-as-by-hand leading the entire group in a community sing, high-spousing one of his favorite Lavender.

After the assembly students will be seated throughout the building by especially chosen and drilled guides with the tour ending at the ninth floor for refreshments and games.

The one sad spot in the entire day's proceedings is the formal notification that classes will be held from three o'clock on, all students required to attend.

Meanwhile at House Plan, 139 Madison Avenue, in the day reception will be in progress. All guides stationed on the ninth floor.

On February 15 the class of '45 is invited to take part in the inauguration of a new tradition, the Dean's Reception to freshmen. Upper classmen are strictly barred with admittance by ticket only. Fun, games, entertainment and choice refreshments are promised, but to the freshmen only.
