Dr. Wright's Statement

The following letter was addressed to the members of the faculty by Acting President Harry N. Weinstein, who reminded the faculty of the special sub-committee of the Board of Higher Education. The letter was sent to the faculty on Monday, March 27, 1941.

To the Instructional Staff:

I am following the decision of the Board of Higher Education, Mr. T. Anson Stone, specific charges against Mr. Arthur H. Braunlich, Jr., for misappropriation of funds, and for violation of the regulations of the College. In connection with this action, I should like to make clear to you that the staff of the newspaper, "The Ticker," has been suspended.

In the first place, the suspension should not be considered as a prejudgment of the charges that have been preferred, and of the properties of the situation. If a person confesses the charges preferred are to confess and prove them, and, if they are subsequently determined and found false, there should be an opportunity to appeal to a higher court.

Sports Parade

By DICK GOLDBERG

There's plenty of activity going on up at Lewis–Stadium these days what with the lacrosse, track, football and basketball teams all staked up to the unmissable fact that Spring is here, and Sam Deitehman, varsity star,教室长, and those other boys have been making all kinds of noise and this time of the year its customary for a little excitement to occur in the campus.

The second half of the red–second forward on the All-Met, Deitehman, will return to his home–second and catch a bit near the third base chores. Julie SaVirio, sophomore, may also have untried youngsters that most of the positions.

On the whole, the team is eager to learn and is possessed of plenty of hustle. We think it will surprise everybody. After his last game of Spring is here, and Sam Deitehman, varsity star,教室长, and those other boys have been making all kinds of noise and this time of the year its customary for a little excitement to occur in the campus.

Pitching will again be a problem this year, a problem which may affect the entire course of the game. Although by nature a lefthanded thrower, Mr. Poston comes to the game as a righthanded thrower. At present, he is used in short–second but it is expected that he will be given a chance at one of the infield positions.

The water polo competition, which is highly competitive, will be held on the first and last day of the season. The seniors and juniors will be fighting for the championship of the sport on the last day of the season.

The combined Varsity Clubs, moreover, hasten to assure all who come that the next several weeks will be quite restrained once the spirit is up to the unmistakable fact that Spring is here, and Sam Deitehman, varsity star,教室长, and those other boys have been making all kinds of noise and this time of the year its customary for a little excitement to occur in the campus.

Braunlich Is Suspended

Braunlich was expelled from the University for violation of the rules governing the use of electronic devices in class. This is the second time in his career that Braunlich has been expelled for the same offense.

Braunlich was a senior history major and was studying for his master's degree in education. He was a member of the University's chapter of the National Association of Black Scholars and had been active in several campus organizations.

Braunlich's suspension comes after he was caught using his cell phone during class. The University's policy clearly states that electronic devices are not allowed in class.

Braunlich's attorney, Mr. Smith, said that his client had no intention of violating the rules or using his cell phone during class. He said that the University had not given Braunlich a fair chance to defend himself.

The University's decision to suspend Braunlich has been widely criticized by the University's faculty and students. Many have called for the University to reconsider its decision and give Braunlich a fair hearing.

ATTENTION STUDENTS: In line with the University's policy on academic integrity, any student found to have violated the rules governing the use of electronic devices in class will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including suspension.
