To the Students of the Summer Session

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Almost two weeks of residence in Morrisville have been completed. Many were the problems to be solved after our arrival and many thanks to the large number of you have given encouragement in so many ways. This letter has to do with the little things which cannot be conveniently announced in earlier times and with matters which should be called to your attention immediately. English Majors will please not evaluate it for style or continuity!

RELIGIOUS SERVICES:

Beginning with this evening, a Jewish service will be held regularly each Friday evening at seven o'clock in Madison Hall. Efforts are being made to secure the services of a Rabbi for some of these services and as counsellor to the student committee. The nearest synagogue is at Syracuse thirty-seven miles away. My own great-grandfather as a pioneer in the mid-west conducted services in his home in his particular faith for a few of his neighbors and his own family for many years because the nearest edifice was forty miles away. Lack of roads and fast means of communication and travel made those forty miles seem a million. Gasoline was not missed because it was not known.

And so in a very personal way, I congratulate the group of students who have taken hold in the typical American way to provide this service at a pioneer outpost for those who wish to gather together for worship.

Invitations from the local Christian Churches were read at assembly last Friday evening. Those invitations were extended to all for the entire summer.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES:

The community has been invited to join us in our second Friday evening lecture and forum tonight at eight o'clock in Madison Hall.

The cafeteria and dairy management are cooperating in providing hot dogs, milk and ice cream for our picnic tomorrow. The trucks are asked to call for us at 10:30 A.M. Separate bath-houses are available for men and women. The lake affords swimming and sailing. PLEASE let the Junior Life Guards go in first and explore since there are no ropes or other guides such as we are accustomed to seeing at large commercial beaches.

Our thanks to the all campus social committee consisting of representatives of the men's cottages and the various corridors of the dormitories for its initiative and energy in helping to make life hum.

Mr. Harter the busy man who seems never too busy to help us have a good time is responsible for the following:

6:30 A.M. tomorrow (Saturday, July 10) - meet on the green in front of Bailey if you wish to observe the mysteries of milk pasteurization before breakfast.

7:30 P.M. An hour of instruction in square dancing before the Saturday night dances - Madison free with no refreshments, Grange Hall 25 cents with refreshments.

Thanks to Mr. Harter and Miss Woodward for ice cream for the picnic. The ice cream will be made at Bailey.

And speaking of dancing - we have our fingers crossed and are waiting for the executive officer to accept or decline our invitation to the Naval Air Cadets at Hamilton. They have a transportation problem, too. What shall I say if they invite us girls to Hamilton? May we go, boys??

SPECIAL MESSAGES:

Instruct your parents on mail addresses. Some mail has been so inaccurately addressed that the New York post office caught the words "Brooklyn College" and sent it to Ave. M. Undoubtedly some has gone to the dead letter office. It's near the end of the page. Please file the separate sheet which will be distributed on telephone calls, telegrams, visitors, etc. The regulations and suggestions are designed for your convenience and your parents' peace of mind.

The laundry has to be used by the management for some of its laundry which cannot be sent out. Faculty guests and students are requested to completely vacate the laundry 10:30 A.M. - 12 noon.
