SC To Accept Applications For Standing Committees

Organisations desiring reduction stunts in next term's U-Book committee must submit their numbers to the council and must be submitted to Eli Schonberg, secretary of the council, this week.

About thirty questions will be asked, and in most cases the choice of three answers. The questions will be asked to determine the will of the Student Council in the future. It is a culmination of a year's work by different people and represents the first real test of student sentiment on matters vital to students.

To enable the Student Council to function, the election will be held in the usual manner.

Two Student Council representatives will be chosen from each class, although members of both classes can run for the same position. The candidate with the largest number of votes will be elected for the year, and the other will be chosen in a run-off between the two candidates and will serve only one term. This election is being held so that no class will present the upper class at the expense of the lower.

The polls will be open in the upper and lower class rooms.

The budget for the Student Council will be submitted to the Student Council.

Harris Instructor Fired: Test Case to be Started

The Joint Committee for the Defense of Education will institute a test suit in an attempt to nullify last week's action of the Bapp-Cordenert and Alumni Associations, who have retained counsel to investigate the situation.

Another possible course of action, according to John Flynn, secretary of the joint "Save Harris" organisations, is a taxpayer's suit to restore the budget that was cut. This action is considered by the Parent-Teachers and Alumni Associations, who have retained counsel to investigate the situation.

Ad Mentor, Short, Fat and Bald-Worth More Than Girth in Gold

By Michael Fitzgerald

Children are seeing the beauty in the over-age, over-fat, and bald-haired. No longer is the beauty of a man measured by his girth. The golden era of the beauty contest is now upon us where the winners can no longer hold their heads high.
