Annual Movie Revival In Pet Sat., May 13

By Daniel Ruder

The Ticker Association will present its Fifth Annual Movie Revival this Saturday evening, May 13, at 8:30. "The Pet" and Hansen Hall will be used for the triple-barraged attack on "The Pet," and those attending will be asked to purchase the student ticket. Only one U-CARD enters the student to a reduction on tickets.

Many of the scenes of "The Pet" will be shown at random, as in the "The Knockout," co-starring Betty Arndt, a well-known New York stage and screen actress; "The Gang Dance," Lauren and Hardy; "Cheerleader," a world champion wrestling match, Gus Sonnenberg vs. Bronco Nagurski; and other productions.

Up-to-date, Hansen Hall will consequently house a live entertainment from the Metropolitan Summer Employment Service. This film is for CCNY alumni appearing in the New York motion picture industry.

A unique feature of the evening is a program of the famous "Freeman" comedians and the thrill of the "Laurel and Hardy" team. The program includes a selection of old-time films and a special feature of the "Freeman" comedians.

An evening of spotlights dancing rounds out the affair. This is a free admission event, which will take place on the last day of the semester on such a large scale that it will be impossible for one to use the area more than one place.

Tickets are being sold in the University on the campus. The theater will be sold out, and the "Freeman" comedians will provide live entertainment.

Convocation Hears Lieberman Plans For Post-War Education Stressed

By Miss Strong

The Ticker Association has invited Dr. Maxwell Lieberman to speak at the Convocation on Thursday, May 13. Dr. Lieberman is a prominent educator and former President of City College. He will discuss the future of education in the United States and the role of City College in preparing students for the post-war world.

"Education is the key to the future," Dr. Lieberman stated. "We must prepare our students for the challenges of the post-war world, and City College is uniquely positioned to do so. We must ensure that our students are well-prepared for the economy that will emerge from this crisis."
Don't Let Our GI's Down

If the war were to end tomorrow, we'd be sorry to see our fourteen hundred CCNY servicemen return to the College. The world has come to realize that our GI's need a stimulating environment to keep them strong and healthy. Therefore, we have submitted to the Board of Education a plan to adjust the curriculum to meet our needs.

Far more serious than when they left, preparation for their re-entry into civilian life is needed. Therefore, the Board of Education has requested the administration to plan a revised curriculum to meet the needs of the returning GI's.

The man with the GI's in mind will lose sight of their education if we adhere to our credit regulations for entrance and graduation. Anytime you have to make a decision, you must consider the student's individual needs. Our Bulletin makes no provision for refresher courses, but it is necessary that we have them. The administration must be flexible.

Letter To the Freshmen

To the Freshmen,

If you want to become a member of Phi Alpha, you must have a number of things: a fine physique, boxing ability, and an ability to climb a tree. The number of things you can do when you enter the College on your own is limited.

The Freshmen's Association is working to increase the number of things you can do. We are working towards a more natural environment where you can grow and develop your talents.

Joe Fang is a member of the Freshmen's Association and he was part of the group that started the ball rolling. The Freshmen's Association is working towards a more natural environment where you can grow and develop your talents.

We've always been a great fan of the Thundering herd and the Thundering herd has always been a fan of us. We've been friends with them for a long time and we've always enjoyed their company.

The first time that we met was at the College of the City of New York. We were both members of the Thundering herd and we've been friends ever since. The Thundering herd is a group of students who are dedicated to making the College a better place to live.

The Thundering herd has always been there for us. They've always been there to help us when we needed it. They've always been there to listen to us when we needed to talk.

We've always been proud to be a part of the Thundering herd. We've always been proud to be friends with the Thundering herd.

We've always been proud to be friends with the Thundering herd. We've always been proud to be members of the Thundering herd.

The Thundering herd is a great group of students. They're great friends. They're great people. They're great students.

We're proud to be a part of the Thundering herd. We're proud to be friends with the Thundering herd. We're proud to be members of the Thundering herd.

GI and Oh Gee!

By Rona Cobin

We always knew that wherever things were popping, there a City man was sure to be found. And the following excerpt from the letter of Pfc. Bob Bedvin indicates that our premise is well founded.

"I'm passing along a little incident which might impress you. I can't tell you exactly where it took place, but it was in an Army Theater.

"This is the Army" was in the last act, when suddenly the show was stopped and someone came on the stage with the announcement that there was an alert on and we had to remain in our seats. Then the lights went out.

By the aid of flashlights from the audience, the show was completed, and then as we had to remain where we were, Irving Herlin and Julie Oshins (the star comedians) MC'd an impromptu show. Oshins broke out into "Hail PC 61," ending with "Hail PS 54" (My Alma Mater as I transferred in the middle of the term). Then suddenly he broke out into "The Street Song" and to say it mildly, I was surprised! And I also found out that a City '41 was sitting in front of me. It's a small world.

It is right Bob, so we hope that the "somewhere in Italy" in your V-Mail will soon be changed to "somewhere in the Bronx".

Talk about the luck of the Irish! Jack Rudner was an Advanced Corpman. Took his Basic at Wheeler and was then transferred to the uptown branch, in the ASTP. And you can imagine the studying that Jack did. We now hear that Jack is in the Army on V-Mail on W Street... for two years... living home.

Seen Around City

Lieutenants Jack Stein and Stan Wexler... both proudly sporting the gold bars atop their tunics...

Pfc. Morty Beer... still with the ASTP up near Syracuse...

Air Cadets Murray Brinn and Eddie Rosen, in from the Air Corp... Murray is on his way to Navigation School.

Heard from Al Bellenson, former HP President... Al writes volumes about the glorious, extra-special moments that occurred to him. The Army actually classified him according to his college degree. He is now expecting to be placed in an administrative capacity at Camp Chaffee, Arkansas. It does this girl's heart good to hear of someone who's doing something he was actually trained for. Take the case of one City boy... He was a trained accountant... had passed his CPA... went to the army and took an Infantry Basic. Then was sent to the ASTP for German... when the ASTP closed down he was sent to the MP's... not as an MP but as a cook... cooked for three weeks during which time there were an alarming number of hospital cases... so he was transferred to GI truck-driving... after several months of tearing up army roads, Sgt. Jerry King was sent to the Infantry again... and is now writing home from somewhere in England." And they tell you to join the Navy to see the world!

Dean Compliments Students' Actions

To the Students of the School of Business and Civic Administration:

May I personally thank all the students of the School who participated in the recent Charter Day exercises. On behalf of the Faculty, I wish to commend all those students who were present for their loyalty and to compliment them on their excellent departmental attire during the assembly. It is indeed heartening to know that such a spirit exists at the College and everyone trusts that it will continue in the future.

setting movement has thus far been made on the part of most colleges to revise their curricula to meet the needs of returning soldiers. Among the adjustments enumerated were the establishment of technical institutes to fit veterans for jobs quickly, a streamlined elective system, and provision for refresher courses especially in mathematics and languages.
