Student Farm Labor Needed

In an effort to alleviate the shortage of farm hands, the Department of Agriculture has assigned a call for two million college students to work on the farms during their vacation. Dr. Bernhard Ostenrodd of St. Francis College is in charge of the recruiting program at City College.

Payings up to $50 per month, in addition to room and board, these jobs will start immediately after the close of the school. They are available in all parts of Pennsylvania and Connecticut and will last for at least two to three months in some cases.

Such jobs should be regarded as more than a part-time job and not as an opportunity to make money. Professor Ostenrodd says, "Here is an excellent opportunity to learn about agriculture and the conditions under which the vast agricultural enterprise is being conducted.

To familiarize volunteer-farmers with farming techniques, the Department of Agriculture is conducting a series of farm management and actual field classes in the city. These classes are held every Monday from 4:45 to 5:45, at the tip of the Dr. Ostenrodd's home.

Theatron Will Produce

"Letters to Lulu"

Theatron last week called for candidates to try out for thirteen "Letters to Lulu" in its current production, "Letters to Lulu." Thirteen community and city boys were chosen to participate in this play.

Farewell Party for Reserves Tonight; Punch, Women, Song

Bidding fond farewell to the departing "44 girls" will sponsor a party for 1944 girls who are members of the reserves tonight at the home of the City Reserve. The party will be a social event for the girls who have completed their set aside for the festivities.

Two hundred girls have been invited to the party, and each one has contributed something to help defray the costs of the affair. The Franklin Club has contributed $250 for the refreshments, and the $50 for the refreshments has been committed to the cost of the refreshments.

Zipped...Elected Editor

At a special meeting of the Ticker Association last week, Mr. Zippert was elected editor-in-chief of The Ticker. He replaces Ray Cowan who left for active duty in the Army Air Force.
We Need Your Help

The Ticker has been forced to turn directly to the students for support due to the lack of funds. This is the first time in the history of higher education that such a step has been taken. We need your support to continue publishing and to provide quality content for your needs.

ATTENTION: All students are encouraged to purchase subscriptions to the Ticker. The cost is only $3.00.
