Committee Investigates Lunchroom Facilities

By Danny Reber

Professor Ralph H. Hess of the Economics Department, has appointed as chairman of a student-faculty committee to investigate conditions in the lunchroom and make recommendations regarding menus, prices, decorations, and the role of congestion.

Concurrently, it was announced that President Harry N. Wright will place on his agenda a grant of $30,000 to $50,000 before the Board of Trustees in January. This grant is to be used to expand the area of the cafeteria, purchase new equipment and fixtures.

The new cafeteria, designated as Unit No. 3, is under the direct supervision of Mrs. E. Newman, who, in turn, is directed by Miss Doris Znstag, Dietician.

Seating for 450 students, the new cafeteria will be adjoined by a national exchange association, the Peace Corps.

The committee, a natural outgrowth of the recent increase in price of materials, will hold its initial meeting with Prof. Hess on Monday, December 1, at 3 p.m. Preliminary plans will be laid for estimating the cost of the new cafeteria. The committee will then hold meetings with other areas of the school to prepare for the ground-breaking ceremony.

The members of the committee are: A. W. Fjeld, Accounting Dept.; Mr. Charles Martin, Law Dept.; The Lowenstern, Accounting Dept.; Mr. Henry Eleen, and Mr. Harvey Schiffer.

Gremlin Steel CCNY Plane; Offer Reward

By Dan Reber

The mystery of the plane has been solved. The Treasury Department has purchased a plane for the purchase of the above-mentioned plane by the sale of $75,000 worth of War Bonds.

We therefore took it for granted that the name of CCNY had been that of "The Spirit of CCNY" which was delivered to us by order of the Treasury. The Treasurer disclaims any ability to locate its destination and passes the back of the War Department. The last, if true, having more red tape than the average student.

We do not know where "The Spirit of CCNY" was supposed to be. Do you know where "The Spirit of CCNY" has been? Can you inform us. We'd really like to know.

Keep It Clean

This is a high school editorial for supposed college students. It is a high school editorial because the message is outside of the common found in public or high school papers, but we expect to have to repeat it for Court College students.

For a number of summers, people have fought for a lunch-room, more benches, and smaller things like soap and towels and lunch in the gym. The reason for this is that there is a public benefactor in Washington Lobby. The administration meets these demands, and the students get what they want.

TICKER Shickers seem to rise to the crazed heights, and Alvin St. Bader, one of the Shickers, is no exception. When Al enlisted in the Air Corps, we thought he was looking for an out from his studies. But City was not prepared for what the Air Corps had in store for him. However, give a Shicker one glass of beer and he's king. Al had that glass of beer, and as a recent Public Relations Office dispatch to Ticker put it, he received his wings and a Freshman Beauty candidate in the closely contested election for Homecoming Queen at the Freshman Ball.

His was a particular kind of chickens...

Glee Club Needs Singers For Noel

In keeping with an old City tradition, carols will be sung through the halls of the school the day before Christmas. This term, the Glee Club is in augmenting the Locker Room Quartette which has done the job. As an additional event, the Glee Club is also planning a concert.

Although the club does have about forty members, more are needed: tenors and altos in particular, to help make this term's program a success.
