Femme Trend in Student Council; Shulman, Kahn, Seger Win Posts
By Marilyn Wiltin
Overpowering and outnumbering male competitors for positions of leadership, the unprecedented surge in female numerical strength led to the election of 14 girls and two boys as representatives of their respective constituencies on Student Council this semester. At the helm of the "ship of state" are three members of the fairer sex, with Lillian Shulman, Upper Senior, assuming the Presidency, Myra Kahn, Lower Senior, the Vice-President, and Selma Seger, Upper Junior, heading the Secretariat.
Among the many important functions of the new council are: supervision of the annual Spring Formal, Freshman Housing and Orientation Program, as an appointment of the Inaugural Committee. Other permanent bodies are the College Stores Committee which represents the voice of the student in governing policies of the store and the Loanroom Committee which represents the cause of deficits in order to improve the service for the student.
The new committees which were established last term are the Loan Committee which works for more sanitary conditions in the residence halls, and the Registration Committee which is responsible for the facilitation of registration procedure this semester and the annual birthday party which is working with the other metropolitan colleges to effect the expulsion of "that man from Mississippi" or lose the vote of the city's ward schools, having been President, Myra Kahn, Lower Senior, the Vice-Presidential, and Selma Seger, Upper Junior, heading the Secretariat.
Inquisition in '48 for Free Academy
First Faculty Frighten Frosh
By David S. Mossenson, '06
On a certain cold winter morning, nearly a century ago — January 27, 1849, to be exact — 143 youngsters stood in an impatient line outside the massive quaintly-turreted red-brick building occupied the entire top story of the city's ward schools, having been windowed out over the preceding fortnight by an arduous process of Inquisition.
Up above, on the platform of the dimly-lit Chapel which occupied the entire top story of the main building, sat the Faculty, well-learned and untiring, constituted of such eminent scholars as President, Myra Kahn, Lower Senior, the Vice-Presidential, and Selma Seger, Upper Junior, heading the Secretariat. They represented the cream of the curricula, and their names are etched in history.

Gideonse Guest Speaker at Convocation Today
Brooklyn College will take part in CCNY's practice of welcoming in the new and welcoming back the old in the person of its esteemed President, Dr. Harry D. Gideonse, who will discuss the World Student Service Fund at the opening convocation today at 13:15 in the Pauline Edwards Theatre.
The two-fold purpose of the presentation by Dr. Gideonse and Thomas L. Norton the opening of the second year, promising veterans, former students and friends, and in a closing gesture, to acquaint the student body with the purpose and functions of the World Student Service Fund.
Student participation in the presentation will be by Lillian Shulman, freshly elected President of Student Council and member of the WSSF, who will disclose City's plans to aid in the relief and rehabilitation of students in a war-torn world by donating such essentials as books, supplies, places in which to study, food, and medical attention.
The schedule of classes has been revised to permit the entire opening rush period for the presentation function.
All classes except those meeting at 3 and 4 will be shortened and the following schedule of classes will be obtained from the Dean's office:

Great Books’ List Now Being Sold
Carrying out Dean Norton's suggestion that "students need assistance in correlating professional and cultural studies," the Department of Philosophy and English is now publishing the "100 Great Books," a survey of the "fame of the classics." and the "Literature of the Day." The book has been well-received, and the demand for it is rising. The "Great Books’ List Now Being Sold" is a convenient way for students to prepare for the course. It is essential to carry out the "Great Books’ List Now Being Sold."
A Challenge to '50!

It is a custom, time-worn and tried, for the college to welcome its incoming freshmen to new generation, new students to swell its ranks, new blood to breathe new life into the old, to give the old a new lease on life. One such new lease on life for Freshman is evolution and development, and the students and staff wonder to see the exciting growth of the future Freshmen.

During the war period our population was truncated, draft status introduced, but the new students were the order of the day. Yet the college remained a part in the storm to welcome the students, and an exciting challenge to those who tested behind.

The students left at home realized that there was more to college life that interested them. Since college was first and foremost a citadel of learning, and then a haven of leisure and development, with the sudden deficiency of students, leaders, there was all too simple to accentuate the books and eliminate the extracurricular activities. From someone came the realization that student councils, clubs, electioneering, student newspapers and magazines were the backbone of the democratic way of life; that intellectual stimulation and useful activities, however, were not the only positive effects of college, but should rather be fused into smoothly running, efficient organization.

It may have taken a war to crystallize the need for student leaders, to emphasize the importance that extracurricular activities hold in a college education, but the need was always there.

So to the class of '50 and all remaining veterans, we say that college is like a world in a globe, and the new students are the world that meets the students and entering a new world of experience. It is a mighty change from the pressures of college life to look forward two years from now a better place when you're ready to go out there.

We hope you can fulfill that challenge. Welcome to City College. The best of luck to you, and remember that acceptance from citizenship is a fine education, infinite opportunities for learning new things, meeting new people, achieving new goals. That's what City College is about, the outstanding of its dignity, the maintenance of its student government and life. Good luck!

Letter to the Editor

DEAR BETTY AND BENNY FRAJSMAN,

Studying years of careful study of selecting classes at CCNY has led me to the conclusion that there are two kinds of Freshman, those who do, and those who don't. And I am speaking of who only ones entering the college, who enter school wide-eyed and brainless in eager anticipation of completing their education.

We hope you can fulfill that challenge. Welcome to City College. The best of luck to you, and remember that acceptance from citizenship is a fine education, infinite opportunities for learning new things, meeting new people, achieving new goals. That's what City College is about, the outstanding of its dignity, the maintenance of its student government and life. Good luck!

Sincerely,

Capacity Enrollment Marks Return of Veterans to City

By Roz Goldstone

Registration for the spring term at City College thus far exceeds the enrollment of last semester by approximately 50%, and at the end of February with the return of reenrolling veterans, a capacity student body of 3,000 is expected at the Business Center.

On the first day 721 students registered for the 23rd Street Center. Of this number 350 students are returning seniors, and 371 are new students. The major portion of the Senior and Junior classes on this first day, the number of students dropped to an average 499, although the number was dropped on an extra day for registration.

For the first time in the history of the college it was imperative to issue a supplementary schedule of vacations to accommodate the 210 boys and 190 girls who make up the Freshmen class, and the 500 veterans. It is expected that one third of the student population will be composed of veterans who are guaranteed entrance at any time in the term of enrollment.

Classes now have a maximum enrollment and will run from 8 to 9 every day. Saturday classes are being given in Psychomotor to those who have no place to study laboratory space. All told, 100 new courses have been added.

Miss Agnes Mulligan said: "The registration has been much more rapid than expected. The attendance of the students and the willingness of the instructors to take classes when called upon, is a great deal of cooperation on the part of all concerned."

'46 Class Council Meets Tomorrow

Class Council of '46 will hold its initial meeting of the semester tomorrow at 10 in 404. It is imperative that all students make a present because an agenda for the first week must be set up. There will be a discussion followed by a vote to determine the time of meetings each week. The first meeting will be held tomorrow at 10 in 404.

SC Elections

Tickets for the election have been mailed to all members of the organization. The election body of CUNY is now open and voters may record their ballots by Kees Veen and Fred Regnoski. U. E. R. F. and all other students are invited to the election.

A meeting of the students Educational Trust was held last night and the totals are now in. The slate of candidates for the school of business, the students, are now available to City College veterans taking part-time jobs valid for one year and one day for each year spent in service. These benefits will in no way affect the veteran's financial rights concerning tuition.

The placement but 50% of all jobs are given to veterans, those who are guaranteed entrance in the Freshman class, and the veterans. It is expected that one third of the student population will be composed of veterans who are guaranteed entrance at any time in the term of enrollment.

You Need Ticker! Ticker Needs You!

Does the lure of midnight deadlines fascinate you? Does printers ink run through your veins? Do words and ideas come forth like a spouting geyser? Then, you need Ticker: Ticker needs you!

Anita Cohen, Editor-in-Chief, will take applications for candidacy tomorrow from 2 to 5 and Friday from 12 to 2.

Jobs Are Open For All Veterans

"Full and part-time positions are now available to City College students," announced Miss Madeleine Strong, Director of the Employment Office.

Veterans taking part-time jobs up to 30 hours per week will be subsidized by the Federal Veterans Administration. For example, holding a full-time position the state is supplementing their salaries on trainee jobs up to $65 per month for single men and $90 per month for married men.

The above provisions of the Veterans Affairs Division are valid for the year and one day for each year spent in service. These benefits will in no way affect the veteran's financial rights concerning tuition.

The return of veterans to City College is expected at the Business Center, although it was necessary to add a supplementary schedule of vacations due to the number of students following the major portion of the Senior class.
