By Rona Cobin

"I can unequivocally say that I will not sign any contract with the Store union until the highest authority in the city has seen it. I cannot take the risk of the union coming to this city with a union. We do not need a union to get what the employees deserve."

Thus stated Mr. John E. Goodwin, Business Manager of City College, when asked his opinion in the matter of union representation for the College employees.

The College Store Committee, an advisory board consisting of five students and an equal number of faculty members, with faculty chairman, met on Thursday to discuss the matter of recognizing the unionization of the College employees. The Committee recommended that the administration negotiate a new contract with the Teachers Union.

The store staff, after reviewing their grievances to Mr. Goodwin and the committee for more than one year, finally decided that their only way to have their demands, for better and fairer working conditions and a higher salary, was to form their own union. The Teachers Union and desirous after their goals in the quickest possible time, the employees, have encountered a four compared to the recent protest, because it has been given as a budgetary necessity.

The Business Manager considers the union an unnecessary burden. The President of the Teachers Union and desirous of their goals in the quickest possible time, the employees, have encountered a four compared to the recent protest, because it has been given as a budgetary necessity.

The Central Committee is expressing its willingness to continue discussions with the University and is awaiting an opportunity to organize itself through the Student Council.

By Stanley Fox

Sparked by a forceful and impassioned speech delivered at the opening of the Student Council of Brooklyn College, the United Jewish Appeal Committee held its first meeting Tuesday, February 26, at the Hillil Foundation.

The guest speaker, Mr. Michael Rosenberg, a representative of the United Jewish Appeal, gave a description of the plight of the displaced Jewish refugees who desperately need a vast amount of aid to survive. Mr. Rosenberg pointed out that these Jewish refugees, originally in Europe in 1938, are not on the map today.

The 100,000,000 Jewish refugees in the world today and the difference they make to the world is more than that of the Jews.

The speaker concluded that "This is not just a Jewish problem; it is every problem of mankind."

The committee is composed of representatives from various student groups. It is a set-up to hold a fund-raising program of its own, with the general purpose of organizing themselves and raising money.

UJA Starts Drive To Help Refugees

In order to organize a concentrated school-wide drive to raise funds for aid of displaced Jews, the University Commission of the Students Council met Wednesday evening. The United Jewish Appeal Central Committee held its first meeting Tuesday, February 26, at the Hillil Foundation.

The guest speaker, Mr. Michael Rosenberg, a representative of the United Jewish Appeal, gave a description of the plight of the displaced Jewish refugees who desperately need a vast amount of aid to survive. Mr. Rosenberg pointed out that these Jewish refugees, originally in Europe in 1938, are not on the map today.

The 100,000,000 Jewish refugees in the world today and the difference they make to the world is more than that of the Jews.

The speaker concluded that "This is not just a Jewish problem; it is every problem of mankind."

The committee is composed of representatives from various student groups. It is a set-up to hold a fund-raising program of its own, with the general purpose of organizing themselves and raising money.

To Hit CTCY

The City Slicker is coming to this newspaper with a laugh-packed tales of life in the big city. Student satire, the brainchild of Philip and Martha Alpert, is a journal that combines current events with imaginative stories.

"A successful experiment in student journalism from the University of Chicago, the magazine has been published in the United States for two years. The magazine is a monthly publication with a circulation of 5,000 copies.

The magazine is published by the University of Chicago, and is distributed by the Student Union of the University of Chicago.

NewMagazine

The magazine is published by the University of Chicago, and is distributed by the Student Union of the University of Chicago.

Students in Need To Receive Loans

Under the direction of Dean Ruth C. Wright, the School of Business and Commerce Administration has undertaken the granting of small loans to students during their college years. The program is intended to encourage and enable capable students to continue their studies.

Funds have been contributed to this worthy cause by Student Council, Sigma Alpha, a donation from an anonymous alumna, and various other small contributions by organizations and interested faculty members.

Applications for undergraduate loans can be obtained in the office of the Department of Student Life, 3611 Bovey.

Guidance Program Starts For Freshmen

Supplementing the Freshman Orientation and chapel programs, a Freshman Guidance program was inaugurated at the College. The program was designed to acquaint freshmen with the facilities and procedures of the College, as well as to help them adjust to college life.

The Freshman Guidance program consists of three main components: a Freshman Orientation program, a Freshman Guidance program, and a Freshman Information Center. The Freshman Orientation program is conducted by the Freshman Advisor, who works with the students to help them become familiar with the College and its facilities.

The Freshman Guidance program is conducted by the Freshman Advisor, who works with the students to help them become familiar with the College and its facilities.

2) Whether they had been influenced in those actions by a specific, changeable factor, such as pressure from others. (Continued on page 4)
Facts vs. Fantasy

Most people who have read the Campus, the bi-weekly newspaper, know that the college is quite busy during the academic year. But few people have known what the students are up to during the summer months. This is because the college is quiet and empty all summer long. But the president of the college, Dr. Arthur Taft, says that the college is not empty all the time. The college is kept alive by the students who live there during the summer months.

On Cleaning House

It's all right to clean up the place, but it's not right to be critical of the college. The college is a place where students live and learn. It's not a place for a living room. It's a place for students to grow and develop. It's a place for them to learn how to live together. It's a place for them to learn how to be independent. It's a place for them to learn how to be responsible. It's a place for them to learn how to be leaders.

City Students Turn Robot Under Hypnotic Spell

By Harry

City students are turning into robots under the influence of a hypnotic spell. The hypnotist, who is a member of the college faculty, is using his powers to turn the students into robots. The students are being hypnotized into doing the same thing over and over again. They are being hypnotized into not thinking for themselves. They are being hypnotized into not being independent. They are being hypnotized into not being responsible. They are being hypnotized into not being leaders.

Always welcome

The Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of New York, Inc.

The Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of New York, Inc.

The Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of New York, Inc.

The Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of New York, Inc.
College Stew

Calling All Reporters

A class in all phases of student publication will be offered on Tuesday at 5 to members of The Tiger staff and any student who are interested in learning journalism at the high school. The class will be held in the library, and the purpose is to interest more students in writing for our school magazine.

A Language Probe

While the course is open to anyone who is interested, it would be most helpful if interested members of the department would contact their class teacher in advance of the meeting. To meet the minimum enrollment of 10, the class will have to be offered, so interested students are urged to take advantage of this opportunity.

A Teacher's Handbook

Every effort is being made to ensure that the handbook is as comprehensive and useful as possible. It is hoped that the handbook will be of great help to both teachers and students, and it is hoped that it will be a valuable resource in the education of the students.

A School Board Meeting

The School Board will meet on Tuesday at 8:30 in the library. The meeting will be open to the public, and all interested students, teachers, and staff members are encouraged to attend.

A Store Contract

The contract for the store is being finalized, and the terms will be announced soon. The store will be operated by the students, and it is hoped that it will be a success for all involved.

A Vets' Meeting

A meeting of the Vets' Union will be held on Wednesday at 7:30 in the library. All members are encouraged to attend, and it is hoped that it will be a productive meeting.

A Vets' Group

The Vets' Group has been meeting regularly, and it is hoped that it will continue to be a valuable resource for the veterans.

A School Administration

The administration is working hard to ensure that the school is running smoothly, and it is hoped that it will continue to be a successful year for all involved.