What Price Education

The Veterans Club has rapidly taken over the figure of the war hero as a symbol of the maturity of its members, their desire to translate their goals into action, which gives them the added impetus, the drive, the push needed to get things done.

The educational system in New York has come up with a great advance in the field of education. We feel we are doing well deserved in some cases and unnecessary in others. We don't want to criticize now. We are merely asking for something we feel the City of New York owes us.

Accolades can be tossed around by civic groups all across the country. We think it's wonderful that we can go to a free institution and receive an adequate education. But the city has committed itself to a policy of free education, they should look out to see that the college and university graduates are being educated. In other words, they should not be used as a substitute for the educational system in this city.

In former years the problems have been one of money and personnel. In recent years the problem has been one of interest. The sons and daughters of the middle and lower class people who have gone to college are, the less interested they are with existing educational systems. In other words, if they were interested in the situation of how the system is run, the sons of the middle and lower class people were quicker on the draw got the jobs and immediately began to apply for the system. Registrar Is To Enforce Entrance Rule On Grads

Because of the tremendous enrollment of ex-GIs at City College, drastic changes, which have been necessitated by overcrowded conditions at the School, were announced by the Registrar's Office.

No longer will the applicant's high school average be the sole criterion by which he is to be admitted. Commencing with the fall semester, entrance examinations will be given in the various subjects, and the score, will be computed with the applicant's scholastic mark to determine whether or not an individual has made the grade.

Several other highly overcrowded conditions at the School were mentioned, for example, entering Freshman class will be sent Uptown this fall.

As is known as yet how many students will attend the full sessions, but Miss Agnes C. Mulligan, Registrar, expects to have this term's record enrollment of approximately 9,000. The increase in enrollment is due largely to the fact that a large number of veterans whose school work is incomplete have registered.

A poll taken by the Brooklyn College Vanguard, official day newspaper, showed that 32% of the student body against the proposed changes.

The employed students, and, in fact, the entire student body, feel that the lengthened hours would force them to either drop some of their electives, give up their jobs, or else-Every conceivable way.

The majority of instructors, most of whom were not consulted as to the new program schedule, would have to remain a longer time, thus also how to instruct classes. The lengthened hours will also cut the research time of all faculty advisors.

Scarcity of Tickets

En masse, the raggedy Dan seized the college. "Tickets, tickets, tickets" was the cry. The Boatride Committee was gashed. "The boat can not even accommodate our students and their guests, let alone several hundred hoboes. How can we tactfully refuse?" pondered the Chairman, fervently saying to keep the goodwill of the hoboes, who are really very inferior men in certain circles.

Then, a technically suggested itself. They had no "BR" stub. Tightly we explained the necessity of presenting a "BR" stub for each pair of tickets, and a "BR" of $1.25 each, and the rule that tickets at $1.50 without stubs may be sold until May 6. In that way Cities will receive preference.

So, if a tramp trembles you, ask him and whiskers, "Buddy, do you have a "BR" stub? Just make believe that he asked you for a dime and give him your usual answer,— "Scrump be!"
