The Centennial Fund

This issue of The Yorker is being devoted to the presentation of timely and interesting news. We do this with the hope of raising the interest of the students in the events that are taking place on campus. We believe that by making them aware of the various activities going on, they will be more likely to participate in them.

The Centennial Fund is one such event. It is a fund-raising initiative by the college to celebrate its 100th anniversary. The fund is intended to support various activities throughout the year, including entertainment, educational programs, and community service projects. The success of the Fund depends on the contributions of the students and faculty members of the college. We encourage everyone to contribute what they can to help make this a successful endeavor.

The funds raised will be used to support the college's operations and to provide scholarships and grants to students. You can contribute to the Fund by donating directly to the college or by participating in the various events and activities that are scheduled throughout the year.

Thank you for your support of The Yorker and the Centennial Fund.
